

1

WORLDVIEW WORLDVIEW WORLDVIEW

JANUARY 1972

ONE DOLLAR

American Jews & Public Policy

Balfour Brickner

- Peter L. Berger
Languages of Murder
- Norman Birnbaum
Marx in '71
- Robert L. Wilken
The Roman Empire & Ours
- David Little
Moral Discourse Under Fire
- Wilson Carey McWilliams & Henry Plotkin
Military Honor After Mylai
- Martin E. Marty
Taking Bangla Desh in Stride

Herder and Herder's critical new books—

Ernst Bloch

Ernst Bloch is one of the most important social theorists of our time. Persecuted during the pre-war years by the fascists of the right and the Stalinists of the left, he left Germany in 1933 and taught in Vienna, Paris, and Prague, and finally in the U.S. until 1949. He now lives in West Germany. Herder and Herder has scheduled publication of his masterwork, The Principle of Hope, for fall of 1972.

SPIRIT OF UTOPIA

One of the most stimulating of all of Bloch's works, Spirit of Utopia is the author's passionate summons to move forward to what he calls "universal self-encounter"—to achieve the human city and a new epoch of consciousness before war, tyranny and technology bring about a barbaric annihilation. $8.50

ON KARL MARX

This study of Marx serves not only as an excellent introduction to the most influential of "worldly philosophers" but is also a significant resume of the central issues of Bloch's own profound and wide-reaching thought. $5.50

A PHILOSOPHY OF THE FUTURE

The messianic thinker—ever seeking justice and freedom and ever setting before men a secular hope—sketches out his vision of man who in his self-made hope and out of the momentum of his own inner restlessness must devise a radically different future. $5.95

MAN ON HIS OWN

In this introductory work, the philosopher of hope and theologian of atheist humanism elaborates on the central themes of his masterwork, The Principle of Hope: utopia, the human mystery, death, and transcendence. $5.50

Iring Fetscher

MARX AND MARXISM

This massive new work by one of the leading social philosophers of our time is a major attempt to contrast the emancipatorial content and intention of Marx's theory with the degenerated form of ideological Marxism, both in the Second International and in the Soviet Union under Stalin. As such, it attempts anew to reconstruct Marx's critical theory, and his concepts of man, future society, and liberty. $9.50

Albrecht Wellmer

CRITICAL THEORY OF SOCIETY

One of the leading social philosophers of the Frankfurt School, Albrecht Wellmer seeks in this study to remove critical theory from its political isolation and place it in the mainstream of the modern social sciences. "Extremely learned... carries a punch that lifts the debate well beyond the range of polite academic disputation."—Times Literary Supplement. $6.95

Paul Breines, Editor

CRITICAL INTERRUPTIONS

New Left Perspectives on Herbert Marcuse

"This book [treats] Marcuse's relation to the radical movement and to the Frankfurt School's notion of critical theory, and sees his ideas as a point of departure for understanding advanced industrial society. If any doubts remain about Marcuse's achievement, this critical review by young, exciting social theorists ends them."—Library Journal. $5.50

Ernst Fischer and Franz Marek

THE ESSENTIAL MARX

Included are Karl Marx's criticism of political economics and the Preface to Capital. Cloth $5.95 Paper $2.95

Theodor W. Adorno

One of the founders of the renowned Frankfurt School of social theory, Theodor W. Adorno is only now being discovered in America as a provocative and seminal thinker in a wide range of areas. His work Kierkegaard: The Construction of the Aesthetic is scheduled for later this year.

NEGATIVE DIALECTIC

This is the major work and culminating achievement of the late Theodor W. Adorno—social theorist, political scientist, philosopher of aesthetics, and culture critic par excellence. It is a criticism of the philosophies of Kant, Hegel, and Heidegger, and a visionary elaboration of the author's own method of dialectics. Throughout this work, Adorno remains faithful to the concrete and the real, and draws his illustrations from the widest conceivable range of historical works. $15.00

PHILOSOPHY OF MODERN MUSIC

Foreword by Pierre Boulez

This is one of the most important sociological studies of art ever undertaken—not only a critique of individual composers and their works, but of society at large, and why modern avant-garde music is what it is. Primarily a study of the radicalism of Schoenberg and the neo-classicism of Stravinsky, it shows how mere stylistic principle followed to its ultimate conclusions leads eventually to sterility and the loss of art. $8.50

At all bookstores or direct from the publisher

HERDER AND HERDER

232 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016

