

Article: 0435

Topic: EPO08 - e-Poster Oral 08: Child and Adolescent Psychiatry

Personality Characteristics of Internet-dependent Students

N.G. Pshuk¹, N.G. Koriava¹

¹Department of Medical Psychology and Psychiatry, Vinnitsa National Memorial Pyrogov Medical University, Vinnitsya, Ukraine

According to the analysis of the Internet audience Ukraine in March 2012 Internet access was 48% of the population of Ukraine aged 16 years and older (15 million. Ukrainian).

Number of Internet subscribers in 2013 compared to 2012 increased by 30% and amounted to 4.64 million. Persons.

According to statistics, in 2012 the distribution of Internet users by age group was as follows: 14-24 years - 36%, 25-34 years - 29%, 35-44 years - 19%, 45-54 years - 12%, over 55 years - 4%. That is why to determine the dependence of Internet addiction in this study was selected students.

The purpose of this study was to examine the personality characteristics of Internet-dependent students

Methods: test for detection of Internet addiction K. Young, a method of determining the level of anxiety (Spielberg Hanina) questionnaire oneself (V.V.Stolina, SR Panteleyev), evaluation of communicative V.F.Ryahovskoho.

Materials: The sample was 158 people, of which the results methods Kimberly Young Internet-dependent turned 14 students.

Results: Internet-addicted students have the following personal characteristics: a high level of anxiety expressed the need for communication, low self-esteem, low self-esteem, low self-understanding, lack of faith in our strength and ability, a high rate of self-incrimination, the expectation of the negative attitude of others, lack of confidence, low curiosity.