SUBMISSION OF ARTICLES

Submission should be made electronically to the Editor-in-Chief, Geoffrey Hodgson, via g.m.hodgson@herts.ac.uk. The submission should be deemed complete only when the receipt and downloading of the paper is acknowledged.

Submissions should be accompanied, in the email text or a separate file, with the following details: the name(s) of the author(s); the email address of the corresponding author; and the institutional affiliation(s) of the author(s).

Submission of a paper will be held to imply that it contains original unpublished work and is not being submitted for publication elsewhere.

All papers will be preliminarily assessed by the JOIE Editors. A paper will be rejected at this stage if it does not comply with the above guidelines, is evidently of insufficient academic quality or interest, or does not lie within the scope of the journal. If a paper passes this assessment, then it will be sent out to referees. The Editors will make the final decision, taking account of the referee's reports.

All articles must be in English. They may be submitted in electronic format only. MSWord, Wordperfect and pdf files are acceptable. There must be no indication of the personal identity or institution of any author of the article within the article itself. Normally, articles (including footnotes and references) must be no longer than 9,000 words. In special cases, such as an extended review or survey article, this limit may be extended to 12,000 words. A declaration of the total word count (including footnotes and references) must accompany or be within the article.

The front page of the electronic file of the article should include the following information: the title; an abstract of the article of up to 150 words; the Journal of Economic Literature classification codes for the article; and up to six key words or short phrases.

Footnotes should be kept to a minimum and the Harvard referencing system should be used.

Papers with some formal content will be considered if it is fully explained for a general readership, the mathematics is consigned as much as possible to appendices, the assumptions have sufficient grounding in reality, and the paper enhances our understanding of past, present, or feasible socio-economic institutions. JOIE is not interested in the advancement of formal or econometric techniques for their own sake.
