GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Submission. As of August 2019 the International Review of Social History only accepts submissions through our ScholarOne Manuscripts portal. This secure online peer-review system facilitates real-time communication and access to manuscripts for editors, reviewers, and other editorial team members.

ORCID. The IRSH now requires all corresponding authors to identify themselves using their ORCID iD when submitting a manuscript through the ScholarOne portal. If you don't already have an ORCID iD, you'll need to create one if you decide to submit a manuscript to IRSH. You can register for one directly from your user account on ScholarOne or via <https://ORCID.org/register>.

Create an Account. First-time users need to create a ScholarOne user account. To create an account, go to <https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/irsh>. If you previously submitted to or reviewed for IRSH, you may already have one.

Click the Create an Account button and fill in the information requested. By default, your username is your e-mail address. Please keep your account up to date when your contact information changes. Do not create duplicate accounts. If you have more than one account or need assistance editing your account, contact the journal office at irsh@iisg.nl.

Manuscript Submission. Once logged in, click on "Author," then on "Start a New Submission," and follow the prompts and instructions on each of the 7 steps of the submission form. Please note that you will be asked to submit two versions of your article, one anonymized version and one non-anonymized version.

Once you finish, double-check for accuracy, and then click on the "Submit" button. You will then receive a manuscript number and an e-mail verifying that your manuscript has been received. Keep track of the status of your manuscript by logging on to ScholarOne Manuscripts (<http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/irsh>), where the status will be displayed in the Author Center.

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not been published previously and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. Authors are also asked to provide brief details of any book they are in the process of publishing, which includes all or part of a submitted article.
