

Forthcoming papers

The September 2001 issue of Geologie en Mijnbouw/NJG will be a special issue:

Evaluation of the potential for large earthquakes in present-day low seismic activity regions of Europe

Guest Editors:

T. Camelbeeck, M. van den Berg, M. Meghraoui & F. Galadini

Contents:

Late Tertiary fault activity in the southwestern boundary fault system of the Roer Valley Graben: evidence from the Bree area (NE Belgium)

M. Sintubin, O. Sels and P. Buffel

The Carboneras fault zone (southeastern Spain) revisited with GPR – Quaternary structural styles from high-resolution images

K. Reicherter & S. Reiss

Active recent faults in the Belgian Ardennes revealed in the Rochefort karstic network

S. Vandycke & Y. Quinif

Geophysical investigation along the Peel boundary fault (The Netherlands): a paleoseismological study.

D. Demanet, L.G. Evers, H. Teerlynck, B. Dost & D. Jongmans

Major active faults in Italy: available surficial data

F. Galadini, C. Meletti & E. Vittori

Paleoseismological investigations in the Mt. Baldo-Lessini Mts. Sector of the Southalpine area (northern Italy)

F. Galadini, P. Galli, A. Cittadini & B. Giaccio

Application of paleoseismological techniques to the study of Late Pleistocene – Holocene large scale mass movements at the Mortirolo Pass (Central Alps, Italy).

M. Onida, F. Galadini & F. Forcella

Paleoseismicity along the El Camp fault (Northeast Spain): a seismogenic fault in a low seismic area

E. Masana, J. Villamarin, J.S. Cabanero, J. Plaza & P. Santanach.

Paleoseismological investigations at the Rurrand fault ? Lower Rhine Embayment

K. Lehman, J. Klostermann & R. Pelzing.

Geomorphic evidence of active normal faulting in slow-deformation areas: the example of the Lower Rhine Embayment

T. Camelbeeck, H. Martin, K. Vanneste, K. Verbeeck & M. Meghraoui

Modelling of speleothem failures in the Hotton cave (Belgium): are they earthquake induced ?

J.-F. Cadorin, D. Jongmans, A. Plumier, T. Camelbeeck, S. Delaby & Y. Quinif.

Geomorphological aspects of site selection at the Rurrand fault for paleoseismic investigations

K. Hinzen, S. Reamer & T. Rose

Active deformation at the southern Alps – Ligurian basin junction

C. Larroque
