

New from the Center for Middle Eastern Studies
University of Texas at Austin

Istanbul Boy: Boyle Gelmis Boyle Gitmez

(That's How It Was But Not How It's Going to Be)
The Autobiography of Aziz Nesin, Part I
Translated from the Turkish by Joseph S. Jacobson

Aziz Nesin, the master of folk literature in Turkey, introduces himself and his artistry through a charming series of vignettes on his boyhood in Istanbul. His memories of life in the "twenties," during the radical transition from Empire to Republic, document the social effects of the changes as they occurred, giving this book a socio-historical significance as great as its literary merit.

Middle East Monographs, No. 3
$6.95, paper; $11.95, cloth; 250 pages; illustrated

Women in the Middle East and North Africa:

An Annotated Bibliography
by Ayad Al-Qazzaz

This comprehensive bibliography contains over 200 English-language items on Middle Eastern Women's studies. The detailed annotations provide a useful overview of the body of literature on this increasingly important topic, summarizing major theories and research findings and pinpointing areas which require additional study. The work is indexed by country and by general topic.

Middle East Monographs, No. 2
$6.50, paper only, 230 pages

Hedayat's "The Blind Owl" Forty Years After

Edited by Michael C. Hillmann

This volume of background and critical essays deals with basic issues of character, theme, and structure of Sadeq Hedayat's enigmatic and controversial novel, which remains forty years after its first private printing in Bombay (1937) the most discussed and influential 20th century Persian literary work.

Middle East Monographs, No. 4
$6.95 (tentative), paper only, ca. 250 pages

Order from
Texas Press Services Box 7877 Austin, Texas 78712

General Editor:
FAY WEBERN

the middle east in the 20th century

H. St. J. B. Philby
ARABIAN HIGHLANDS

Arabian Highlands, the first study of Saudi Arabia by a European, provides much insight into the workings of the sometimes mysterious Middle East. Written by H. St. J. B. Philby, who was the first European to explore many areas of Saudi Arabia, the book chronicles his twenty-five years as a resident of that country with the depth that only a lifetime of study could achieve.
(Ithaca, 1952)
xvi + 771 pp. 64 illus., 3 maps, 2 diagrams

$39.50

Jon Kimche
SEVEN FALLEN
PILLARS
The Middle East,
1945-1952
Second Edition,
revised and enlarged

The object of ridicule and scorn when the first edition was published in 1950, Seven Fallen Pillars proved to be an accurate prediction of England's loss of influence in the Middle East. Kimche's masterpiece probes the reasons behind the loss of Britain's Middle Eastern empire, including the wealth of unkept promises in England's proposals for a Jewish homeland; the ineffectual policies of maintaining the power of the old ruling families; the deception and brutality with which the British government attempted to rule; the attempts to force a distant culture on the Middle East; and the ignorance of social realities which resulted in growing tensions. A detailed discussion of the American outlook in the Middle East and its parallel road to failure is included. (Not available from Da Capo Press in the British Commonwealth, except Canada.)
(London, 1953) 438 pp., 13 illus.

$30.00

Olaf Kirkpatrick Caroe
WELLS OF POWER
The Oil Fields of Southwestern Asia
with a Foreword by
Lionel Curtis

This volume discusses the political, social, economic, and military problems that faced both Western and Eastern powers upon the sudden discovery of oil in southwest Asia. In light of the increasing importance of the area's oil fields, Caroe focuses attention on the shifting political attitudes toward the region from 1908 through the 1940s. He examines the role of the Middle East in the First World War, the formation of Israel, policies of American and British oil companies in the area, influences of Western culture upon Eastern values, and protection of the area from military aggression.
(London, 1951) 240 pp., illus.

$19.50

John Bagot Glubb
THE STORY OF THE ARAB LEGION

This vivid portrayal of the Arab Legion, the force responsible for maintaining internal order in the Middle Eastern countries of the British Empire, brings to light the perceptions and attitudes of the English who controlled the area. As brigadier of the Legion, which was composed entirely of Arabs except for its highest officers, Glubb was well-respected by the Arabs and was given a unique opportunity to study their life-style. He relates their military history, their culture, and their adaptation to the modern world. Glubb also discusses the many activities of the Arab Legion, including the elimination of raiding parties, the struggle to secure Palestine, and the battle with the German-supported forces which overthrew the government of Iraq.
(London, 1948) 371 pp., 54 illus.

$25.00

Arthur C. Millspaugh
AMERICAS IN PERSIA
with a Foreword by
Harold G. Moulton

Americans in Persia is a study of the politics of Persia in 1946, that takes into consideration the general underlying economic, social, and psychological conditions at that time. Dr. Millspaugh has attempted to portray and analyze the essential conditions that made Persia a problem area—the mind and character of the people; their form of government; and the need for three American Financial Missions to Persia (1911, 1922-1927, 1943-1945). He discusses Soviet aims and methods in the country as well as British and American principles, policies and practices.
(Washington, D.C., 1946) 293 pp., 8 illus., 2 maps

$19.50

Fridtjof Nansen
ARMENIA AND THE NEAR EAST

Armenia and the Near East offers a firsthand account of the problems of finding homes for Armenians who were displaced by the Ottoman Empire during World War I. Dr. Nansen, the League of Nations' High Commissioner for Refugees, was a member of the committee charged with the difficult task of seeing through the creation of a free, independent, and sovereign state for Armenians from territory under Turkish occupation. In this book, Nansen discusses in detail the committee's journey to the Republic of Armenia and the work accomplished there, his impressions of the country and its peoples, and the committee's proposals to the League of Nations.
(New York, 1928) 324 pp., 28 illus.

$20.00

DA CAPO

DA CAPO PRESS, INC., 227 West 17th Street, New York, N.Y. 10011
In United Kingdom: Plenum Publishing Co. Ltd., Black Arrow House,
2 Chandos Road, London NW10 6NR, England

Prices slightly higher outside the US. Prices subject to change without notice.

New from Princeton

Catalogue of Arabic Manuscripts (Yahuda Section) in the Garrett Collection, Princeton University Library
RUDOLPH MACH

Index by ROBERT D. McCHESNEY
This catalogue describes one of the largest and finest collections of Arabic manuscripts in the Western world. "I stand in awe and admiration before this great work. Anyone who has used catalogues of Arabic manuscripts knows that they differ widely in quality and usefulness. Mach's creation is superb." — S.D. Goitein, Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton 540 pages • 10 x 13" • $100.00

The Black Death in the Middle East

MICHAEL W. DOLS

In the middle of the 14th century a devastating epidemic of plague swept over the Eurasian continent. This book, based principally on Arabic sources, establishes the means of transmission and the chronology of the plague pandemic's advance through the Middle East. Illus. • $19.50

Red Star on the Nile

The Soviet-Egyptian Influence Relationship since the June War
ALVIN Z. RUBINSTEIN

The Soviet-Egyptian relationship after the June War of 1967 was a new one for both countries, and its consequences were of global importance. Drawing on all available Soviet and Arab materials, Rubinstein develops the concept of influence as an analytical tool and explores in comprehensive fashion every aspect of the relationship between the two nations. Cloth, $25.00 • Limited Paperback Edition, $9.95

Spiritual Body and Celestial Earth ☘

From Mazdean Iran to Shi'ite Iran
HENRY CORBIN

Translated by NANCY PEARSON

A distinguished authority on Iranian Islam analyzes interrelated themes in Iranian religion. Beginning with the angelology of Mazdaism and its links to the Islamic Shi'ite concept of Hürqalyâ, the realm of creative imagination, Corbin goes on to present selected texts by eleven Persian mystics that have never before been translated into a Western language. Bollingen Series XCI: 2
Illus. • $14.50

Now in Paperback

ISLAM IN MODERN HISTORY

Wilfred Cantwell Smith
$3.45 • (Cloth, $14.00)

Eighth Edition

IRAN: Past and Present

Donald N. Wilber
Illus. • $4.95 • (Cloth, $17.50)

HISTORY — REMEMBERED, RECOVERED, INVENTED

Bernard Lewis
$2.95 • (Cloth, $7.95)

THE POLITICAL ELITE OF IRAN

Marvin Zonis
Princeton Studies on the Near East
$4.95 • (Cloth, $15.00)

Princeton University Press
Princeton, New Jersey 08540

THE STUDY OF THE MIDDLE EAST

Research and Scholarship in the Humanities and Social Sciences
A Project of the Research and Training Committee of the Middle East Studies Association

Edited by Leonard Binder

Contributions—

- Area Studies: A Critical Reassessment by Leonard Binder
- Islamic Religious Tradition by Charles J. Adams
- History by Albert Hourani
- Anthropology by Richard T. Antoun, with David M. Hart and Charles L. Redman
- Islamic Art and Archaeology by Oleg Grabar
- Political Science by I. William Zartman
- Philosophy by Seyyed Hossein Nasr
- Linguistics by Gernot Windfuhr
- Literature by Roger Allen, with William L. Hanaway and Walter Andrews
- Sociology by Georges Sabagh
- Economics by John Simmons

$25.00 0 471 07304-0

Order from your bookstore or write to John Ware

WILEY-INTERSCIENCE

a division of JOHN WILEY & SONS
605 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016
New York • London • Sydney • Toronto