M.A. & Ph.D. Programs

The BGC is a graduate research institute committed to studying the cultural history of the material world. Our degree programs, research projects and exhibition program together work to suggest a new field of questions at the crossroads where decorative arts, design history and material culture studies meet.

Students enrolled in the M.A. and Ph.D. programs work closely with a distinguished permanent faculty of active scholars in exploring the interrelationships between works of art and craft, design, places, ideas, and social and cultural practice in courses ranging from the Ancient World to the Twenty-First Century.

Editor-in-Chief

Toni Pfanner, The International Committee of the Red Cross, Switzerland

The International Review of the Red Cross promotes reflection on humanitarian law, policy and action in armed conflict and other situations of collective armed violence. A specialized journal in humanitarian law, it endeavours to promote knowledge, critical analysis and development of the law and contribute to the prevention of violations of rules protecting fundamental rights and values.

Instructions for Contributors

The China Quarterly welcomes the submission of manuscripts from scholars, including postgraduate students, on all aspects of contemporary China and from all points of view, including those which deal with Taiwan and Overseas Chinese. Articles on China prior to 1949 are also welcome, particularly, but not exclusively, when these relate directly to contemporary China or to the history of the Chinese Communist Party.

The China Quarterly will consider two main types of submissions: Regular articles (up to 8,000 words, including footnotes): in-depth and theoretical pieces which should present original research in combination with analytical argument; Research reports (up to 4,000 words, including footnotes): shorter pieces based on primary research and empirical evidence.

Manuscripts should be submitted to The China Quarterly Editorial Office, School of Oriental and African Studies, Thornhaugh Street, London, WC1H 0XG, UK, chinaq@soas.ac.uk. If you submit a hard copy, please provide a master copy containing full contact details and an anonymised electronic version of the article (preferably as a Word document) on disc. If you send your manuscript by email, please make sure you include your full contact details and send an anonymised copy of the article as well as a master copy. An abstract of 100–150 words should also be provided. All submissions should be typed in double-spacing with footnotes at the end; and should conform to the styling of The China Quarterly (see below).

Style

Romanization and Chinese characters

Use pinyin without tone/diacritical marks, except the following, which use the Wade-Giles system: Chiang Kai-shek, Sun Yat-sen, Taipei, Kuomintang, etc.; names of people living outside mainland China. Give Chinese characters on the first occurrence of each Romanization, to assist in proof-reading. Chinese characters are incorporated into article texts (ie. English (pinyin, characters)) so authors must provide Chinese characters for all Chinese used in the main text (not footnotes) on first appearance, including pinyin phrases, people's names and geographical locations. However, Chinese characters are not needed for names of provinces and province capitals, well-known leaders (Mao Zedong, Deng Xiaoping, etc.)

Numbers

One to ten spelled out, 11 or more in figures; per cent in text, but % in footnotes. Dates: 2 March 1993. Page references: pp. 324–26 but pp. 324–336.

Copyright

It is a condition of publication in the Journal that authors assign copyright to the School of Oriental and African Studies. This ensures that requests from third parties to reproduce articles are handled efficiently and consistently and will also allow the article to be as widely disseminated as possible. In assigning copyright, authors may use their own material in other publications provided that the Journal is acknowledged as the original place of publication, and Cambridge University Press is notified in writing and in advance.
