

The Private Science of Louis Pasteur

GERALD L. GEISON

On the hundredth anniversary of Louis Pasteur's death, Gerald Geison has written a controversial biography that finally penetrates the secrecy that has surrounded much of this legendary scientist's laboratory work. Geison uses Pasteur's laboratory notebooks, made available only recently, and his published papers to present a rich and full account of some of the most famous episodes in the history of science and their darker sides. In giving Pasteur the close scrutiny his fame and achievements deserve, Geison's provocative book offers compelling reading for anyone interested in the social and ethical dimensions of science.

"The most original account of Pasteur's science and his personality to appear. . . a remarkable example of judicious, balanced scholarly treatment of very difficult issues."—Frederic L. Holmes

FRAUD AND MISCONDUCT IN MEDICAL RESEARCH

Edited by Stephen Lock and Frank Wells

Fraud exists, both in academic medical research and in drug trials in general practice. This book sets out the evidence, reviewing events since 1975 when the first notorious case of fraud became public knowledge. The problem is viewed from many perspectives, with contributions from a general practitioner, head of an academic unit, contract research company director, statistician, editor and lawyer. Together, their information provides a compelling account of the extent to which fraud and misconduct have been and continue to be practised in medicine. Fraud and Misconduct in Medical Research is a valuable practical text for all researchers – and ultimately anyone who practises medicine.
