Ethnic Enterprise in America

Business and Welfare Among Chinese, Japanese, and Blacks

Ivan H. Light

"By far the best and most satisfying book on the perplexing problem of why Blacks have not created a business class in America, and why other racial groups, such as the Chinese and Japanese have. It is also a major contribution to the understanding of both the sociology of ethnicity and the sociology of business enterprise." — Nathan Glazer

The Rise of Teamster Power in the West

Donald Garnel

This study traces in detail the growth and development of the Teamsters Union in the western United States, and particularly the highway drivers organized and led by Dave Beck, during the tumultuous period prior to World War II. Mr. Garnel has used documents not previously available to scholars to chart the rise of highway trucking as a formidable competitor of both railroads and local truckers and to show how vast changes began to occur in the union's structures and policies.

THE BUSINESS HISTORY REVIEW

¶ The Newcomen Society in North America, in cooperation with the Business History Review, announces a prize of $1,000 and scroll to be awarded in 1973 for the best book on the history of business published in the United States during the years 1970-1972.

¶ Criteria for selection will include contribution to knowledge, depth of analysis, soundness of reasoning, clarity of style and organization, and general readability and format.

¶ The committee to select the recipient of the 1973 Thomas Newcomen $1,000 Award in Business History is composed of: Professor Glenn Porter, Editor, Business History Review, Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration; Mr. Stanley van den Heuvel, Trustee, The Newcomen Society in North America; and Professor James P. Baughman, Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, chairman.
