New Titles in the Studies on Contemporary China series

Economic Reform and State-Owned Enterprises in China 1979-87

D. A. Hay and D. J. Morris
With Guy Liu and Shujie Yao

- A detailed analysis by well-known industrial economists

Based on the results of a large-scale investigation of China's reform process over the years 1979-87, this book analyses the country's transition to a market economy.

0-19-828845-X, 512 pp., 10 figures, 130 tables, Clarendon Press, £50.00

The Chinese Economy in the 1990s

Edited by Robert Ash and Y. Y. Kueh

The contributors to this book provide a concise and authoritative account of the prospects for the Chinese economy in the 1990s, covering recent policies and economic trends.

0-19-828822-0, 280 pp., figures, tables, paperback, £15.00 July 1994

China and Japan

History, Trends, and Prospects

Edited by Christopher Howe and Brian Hook

The distinguished contributors to this volume present and interpret the intriguing relationship between China and Japan, covering the important issues—both diplomatic and economic—and considering the implications of current Sino-Japanese contacts for the wider world.

0-19-828932-4, 150 pp., figures, tables, paperback, £15.00 June 1994

Agricultural Instability in China 1931-1990

Y. Y. Kueh

- A remarkably detailed and innovative account of the agricultural sector in China during the period 1931-1990

Professor Kueh has presents and analyses an unequalled amount of statistical data, combining this with a wider discussion of Chinese economic policy and macroeconomic instability.

0-19-828777-1, 326 pp., 36 figures, 47 tables, Clarendon Press, £35.00

Economic Trends in Chinese Agriculture

The Impact of Post-Mao Reforms

Edited by Y. Y. Kueh and Robert F. Ash

This is the single most comprehensive summary of development in Chinese agriculture since the beginning of the reforms of the later 1970s.

Manuscripts

The China Quarterly welcomes the submission of manuscripts from scholars, including postgraduate students, on all aspects of contemporary China and from all points of view, including those which deal with Taiwan and Overseas Chinese. Articles on China prior to 1949 are also welcome, particularly, but not exclusively, when these relate directly to contemporary China or to the history of the Chinese Communist Party. Articles should be submitted in quadruplicate to the editorial office. They should normally not exceed 8,000 words in length; should be typed in double spacing, with footnotes at the end; and should conform to the styling of The China Quarterly (see below). Submission of a manuscript is taken to imply that it has not previously been published in any form (including non-copyrighted working papers) and that it is not currently being considered elsewhere.

The China Quarterly is published by Oxford University Press on behalf of the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London. The views expressed in articles are those of individual authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the School.

Style

Romanization

Pinyin is used without tone/diacritical marks, except the following which should use the Wade-Giles system: names such as Chiang Kai-shek, Sun Yat-sen, Taipei and Kuomintang; names of individuals living outside mainland China. Chinese characters should be provided on the first occurrence of each romanization, to assist in proofreading.
