

It is hoped to cover the following subjects in future issues:

n-3 Polyunsaturated fatty acids in growth and development

M. T. Clandinin

Cardiovascular risk in developing countries: paediatric lipid profiles

R. Uauy

Use of near infra-red spectroscopy in nutrition

I. Givens and E. Deaville

Monitoring intake and digestion in free-living animals

R. Mayes

Role of modelling in understanding nutrition

J. Black

Food-based strategies for eradicating vitamin A deficiency in developing countries

C. West, N. W. Solomons et al.

Lactose, digestion and maldigestion: implications for dietary habits in developing countries

J. Rosado

Health advantages of breast feeding for mothers

M. Heinig and K. Dewey

Diet and haemostasis

H. Vorster

Mechanism of action of carotenoids

N. Krinsky

Protein–energy interactions

V. Young and P. Pellet

Nutrition Research Reviews

CONTENTS

Contributors
Preface	vii–xi
Nutritional implications of resistant starch. N.-G. Asp, J. M. M. van Amelsvoort and J. G. A. J. Hautvast	1–31
The nutritional challenges in the new South Africa. Alexander R. P. Walker	33–65
Protein requirements of older individuals. D. Joe Millward and Susan B. Roberts	67–87
Health advantages of breast feeding for infants. M. Jane Heinig and Kathryn G. Dewey	89–110
Bowel function, food intake and the menstrual cycle. Amanda L. P. Vlitos and G. Jill Davis	111–134
Nutrition–environment interactions in pregnancy. Michael E. Symonds and Lynne Clarke	135–148
A review of recent research on nutrition and metabolism in the athletic horse. K. M. Hiney and G. D. Potter	149–173
Antioxidant nutrients in pregnancy: a systematic review of the literature. Fiona Mathews	175–195
Epidemiology and mechanisms relating diet to risk of colorectal cancer. Sheila A. Bingham	197–239
Effects of dietary fat on cholesterol metabolism: regulation of plasma LDL concentrations. Andrew M. Salter and David A. White	241–257
Dietary fatty acids with trans unsaturation. Michael I. Gurr	259–279
Iron deficiency alleviation in developing countries. W. Schultink and R. Gross	281–293
Bioavailability of minerals and trace elements. Susan Fairweather-Tait and Richard F. Hurrell	295–324
Subject Index	325–329

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

0954-4224(199611)9;1-D