

JOHN CALVIN, THE CHURCH, AND THE EUCHARIST

By KILIAN McDONNELL, O.S.B.

Calvin's eucharistic doctrine has been approached in the past from the standpoint of his polemic with the Lutherans and the Zwinglians, but Father McDonnell believes that Calvin's primary position was determined by his rejection of Roman Catholicism. The author therefore explores Calvin's eucharistic doctrine through a comprehensive analysis of his stand against the Roman Catholic Church. Introductory chapters are devoted to the broader currents of pre-Reformation thought: Scotist tradition, devotio moderna, humanism, and the Platonic renewal. The study continues with a discussion of St. Augustine, the medieval disputants, and the doctrines of Calvin's contemporaries—Luther, Bucer, and Melancthon. The final chapter considers the relevancy of Calvin's objections to Catholic eucharistic doctrines and their relation to modern developments in Catholic sacramental thought.
