The Overcoming of Metaphysics in Christian Tradition

Joseph S. O’Leary

Available at your local bookstore or directly from

Seabury Books

600 First Avenue North
Minneapolis, MN 55403

“...delivers theology from its centuries-old captivity to metaphysics...so timely it may catch its audience unprepared!”

Harvey Cox
Divinity School
Harvard University

“This book elaborately and masterfully provides the sort of rethinking of Christian doctrine which I proposed two decades ago in The Future of Belief. It is a superlative achievement of scholarly yet lucid reasoning. It will answer the needs of many contemporary Christians.”

Leslie Dewart
St. Michaels College
University of Toronto

“O’Leary writes with great imagination, Nietzschean skill, zest, and profound fidelity to Christian revelation. An exemplary book in every sense.”

Fergus Kerr, OP
Theology Faculty
Oxford University

“Many have written about the crisis of faith and theology; O’Leary provides a remarkably penetrating diagnosis of the sickness and offers an original treatment. A remarkable and provocative analysis of what has gone wrong with the Christian enterprise.”

Paul M. van Buren
Religious Studies
Temple University

“The author breaks the conspiracy of silence that now surrounds the theological bankruptcy of the churches. He really confronts the crisis of faith and understanding that stems from this metaphysical tradition and its world-negating images, a crisis which is certainly one of the main factors generating new fundamentalisms and dogmatic orthodoxies.”

THE PERSON IN PSYCHOLOGY
A Contemporary Christian Appraisal
Studies in a Christian World View
Mary Stewart Van Leeuwen

"A rich, challenging book . . . one that, in particular, every Christian who is a serious student of psychology should read and reflect on. . . . The author's most general concern is to show the need for a major paradigm shift, one that will greatly change our present understanding of what is called 'scientific' psychology. The exciting thing is that this book helps bring about this very shift—one that will provide a more humane, realistic, and valid understanding of the person."
