The School in Question

A Comparative Study of the School and its Future
in Western Societies

Torsten Husén

This is a study of recent trends in European and American education. It notes the symptoms of a general malaise in educational systems; surveys the various criticisms of the schools raised by radicals, conservatives, and humanists; and discusses the major issues which emerge from this survey. Lord Bullock has written a substantial preface. £7.50 paper covers £3.50

Social Problems and the City

Geographical Perspectives

D. T. Herbert and D. M. Smith

These essays aim to discover the origins of social problems in the city, to suggest ways in which they can be studied by geographers, and to form an overall assessment of the geographer's role in evaluating and solving them. £8.50 paper covers £4.50

Political, Electoral, and Spatial Systems

R. J. Johnston

This book presents a systematic view of the interrelationships between geographical and political variables and emphasizes their consequences for the geography of inequality and the nature of democracy. Its main argument is that geographical variation in the level of economic and social well-being results from the electoral activities of political parties competing to gain and retain power. £7.95 paper covers £4.50

Contemporary Problems in Geography

Hospital Utilization: An International Study

R. F. Bridgman

This WHO study compares the operation of hospitals in nine regions of eight countries on two continents, and examines the factors that influence the way in which population groups use the hospitals accessible to them. It will interest planners and administrators of health services and students of health care administration and policy. Illustrated £12.50 Oxford Medical Publications

SOCIAL ADMINISTRATION ASSOCIATION

The Association exists for those whose work consists mainly of teaching or research in the fields of Social Administration and Social Policy. It was formed some years ago to enable staff from universities, polytechnics, technical and other colleges, independent and Government research organisations to meet and discuss matters of common interest.

The Association acts as a representative of its members and of Social Administration through contacts with the Social Science Research Council, the Council for National Academic Awards and the Business Education Council.

The Association has specialist groups which meet to discuss the teaching of social policy and public expenditure and social policy.

The Association holds an Annual Conference. The 1980 conference will be from 17th to 19th July in Cambridge. The theme will be 'The Evaluation of Social Policies'.

The current membership subscription is £18.00 per calendar year; this includes the subscription to the Association's Journal, the Journal of Social Policy (four issues per year).

2. Articles should generally contain between 5,000 and 10,000 words including footnotes, although longer or shorter articles may be accepted by arrangement with the Editor. Short articles stand a better chance of early publication.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.
4. Contributions (articles, review articles, reviews) should be clearly typed on one side of the paper only using a conventional size of paper, preferably A4. All material should be typed double-spaced with generous margins. Contributors should send two copies and keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
5. Contributions should be accompanied by an abstract of between one and two hundred words.
6. References to books and articles should include the following details: in the case of books, the full title and author or authors, place of publication, publisher and date; in the case of articles, the title and author or authors, full name of the journal, volume, year and page reference (first and last page). References and other footnotes should be numbered consecutively throughout and typed separately at the end of the article. Good articles which contain this bibliographical information will be accepted, even if they do not follow the journal's own arrangement of the information.
7. Tables should be clearly laid out and designed to fit on to a page 234 mm × 155 mm. Vertical lines between columns should be omitted, and horizontal lines limited to the top and bottom of the table, with an additional one below the column headings. Totals and percentages should be labelled, and units identified.
8. Contributors are advised to look through earlier issues of the journal for guidance on points of general style.
9. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the editor, by air mail where appropriate, within seven days of receiving them. The master proof will always be sent direct to the editor by the printer; contributors will receive duplicates.
10. Authors of articles and review articles (but not book reviews) receive twenty-five free offprints. Additional copies may be bought if ordered at proof stage.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
