

THE CHINESE ART OF TEA

John Blofeld

The first book to introduce to Western readers the Chinese art of tea, which – unlike its Japanese counterpart – is informal and wholly unrestricted by fixed rules. Besides the long history of tea, told with a wealth of legends, anecdotes and poems, readers are also provided with practical instructions for the purchasing and enjoyment of fine teas.

Hardback £7.95

SINO-RUSSIAN RELATIONS

Rosemary Quested

Today Russia and China confront one another across the longest national frontier in the world. Yet, for all the plethora of literature on the history of the two countries, until now no book has provided a systematic history of the relations between them. Dr Quested sets out to fill this gap with a survey covering 1618 to the present day.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR STUDY AND RESEARCH IN CHINA

The Committee on Scholarly Communication with the People's Republic of China (CSCPRC) announces opportunities under the 1986–87 National Program for Advanced Study and Research in the PRC for graduate students and postdoctoral scholars in the social sciences and humanities. This program offers support for long-term study and research at Chinese universities and research institutes. In addition, the Visiting Scholar Exchange Program supports short-term scholarly visits for both American and Chinese scholars in the sciences, as well as the social sciences and humanities. Application is open to citizens and permanent residents of the United States regardless of national origin, sex, or religious affiliation. The number of grants depends on available funding, which is provided by the United States Information Agency, Department of Education, National Endowment for the Humanities, National Science Foundation, and the Starr and Ford Foundations. Address inquiries to: CSCPRC, National Academy of Sciences, 2101 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20418

OCCASIONAL PAPERS/REPRINTS SERIES IN CONTEMPORARY ASIAN STUDIES

No. 3 (1983) (56) MEDIA-COVERAGE ON TAIWAN IN THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA (Jorg M. Rudolph)
77 pp. ($3.50) ISSN 0730-0107 ISBN 0-942182-55-3

No. 3 (1983) is an analysis and comparison of P.R.C. media coverage concerning Taiwan. This study demonstrates how Communist historiography always has to fit into the Party's present needs.

No. 2 (1984) (61) THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF CHINA: PARTY POWERS AND GROUP POLITICS FROM THE
THIRD PLENUM TO THE TWELFTH PARTY
CONGRESS (Hung-mao Tien) 30 pp. ($3.00) ISSN
0730-0107 ISBN 0-942182-61-8

No. 2 (1984) analyzes four aspects of Chinese domestic politics from the Eleventh Central Committee's Third Plenum (December 1978) to the Twelfth Party Congress (September 1982): (1) the evolution of the new power alignment; (2) the network of power bases of this leadership group; (3) their strategies adopted for contending with their opponents in a struggle for power; and (4) changes in policy and institutions connected with the struggle that shaped subsequent political developments in the PRC.

No. 5 (1984) (64) TAIWAN'S ELECTIONS: POLITICAL DEVELOP-MENT AND DEMOCRATIZATION IN THE REPUBLIC OF CHINA (John F. Copper, with George
P. Chen) 180 pp. ISSN 0730-0107 ISBN 0-94-2182-65-0
(paperback $5.00) 0-942182-66-9 (hardcover $10.00)

This is the only comprehensive analysis of Taiwan's elections between 1950 to 1983. The authors personally observed several recent elections in Taiwan. The documentary part includes the English translation of the 1980 Public Officials Election and Recall Law.

No. 6 (1984) (65) CANKAO XIAOXI: FOREIGN NEWS IN THE PROPAGANDA SYSTEM OF THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA (Jorg-Meinhard Rudolph)
173 pp. ($5.00) ISSN 0730-0107 ISBN 0-942182-67-7

The author attempts to break new scholarly ground by analyzing the purpose and function—in the scheme of the PRC propaganda system—of the mysterious internal daily news Cankan Xiaoxi (Reference News). The study supplies comprehensive raw material on this newspaper by focusing on a distinct section of it, namely the information reported on the PRC itself during the period from August 1981 to March 1982. The author worked two years in a Chinese propaganda organ and gathered first hand information on the subject.

Forecasting Political Events

The Future of Hong Kong

Bruce Bueno de Mesquita, David Newman, and Alvin Rabushka

This important book utilises a formal interest group theory of politics to forecast what will happen to Hong Kong after China assumes sovereignty and administrative authority in 1997. The authors predict that, among other things, personal freedoms will be constrained after 1997, the economy will be considerably more regulated than is now the case, and new land leases will be negotiated at real market rates. Illustrated £22.00

Woman in the Crested Kimono

The Life of Shibue Io and Her Family

Drawn from Mori Ōgai's Shibue Chūsai

Edwin McClellan

Edwin McClellan has translated the parts of Mori Ōgai's classic biography that deal with Shibue Io and has interwoven them with his own comments and narrations, presenting Io as a warmly human figure whose story illuminates her society and times. £15.95

Weapons of the Weak

Everyday Forms of Peasant Resistance

James C. Scott

Scott presents a sensitive picture of the constant and circumspect struggle waged by peasants against their oppressors. A richly evocative account based on two years of fieldwork in rural Malaysia. £25.00

Manuscripts

The China Quarterly welcomes the submission of manuscripts from scholars, including research students, on all aspects of contemporary China and from all points of view, including those which deal with Taiwan and the Overseas Chinese. Articles on China prior to 1949 are also welcome, particularly, but not exclusively, when these relate directly to contemporary China or to the history of the Chinese Communist Party. Articles should be submitted, in triplicate, to the editorial office. They should be typed in double spacing, footnotes being placed at the end of the article; preferably conform to the styling of The China Quarterly; and normally not exceed 8–10,000 words in length. A style sheet is available upon request. Submission of a manuscript is taken to imply that it has not previously been published and that it is not currently being considered elsewhere.

The China Quarterly is published by the Contemporary China Institute of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London University. The views expressed in articles are those of individual authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the Contemporary China Institute.

CHINESE CULTURE & MANAGEMENT

To date, most conferences on China have focused on its export/import or joint-venture potential. This conference will throw light upon another area – equally critical to successful business performance – an understanding of Chinese industrial culture and the traditions, styles and values of Chinese management.

The conference will offer a unique opportunity to examine:

- the Chinese system of values and its impact on management in China
- the structure and operations of Chinese industry
- the development of management skills in contemporary China

- the requisites for successful business ventures in China
- the outlook for Chinese management in the coming decade

Leading industrialists and experts from China, Europe and the United States will address these important issues.

Please send me further details on the China Conference, Inter-Continental Hotel, Paris, January 23 and 24, 1986.
