ATTENTION AUTHORS

POLICY: The Journal of Interamerican Studies and World Affairs will publish articles dealing with contemporary US-Latin American relations, US foreign policy toward Latin America and the foreign policies of those other American republics, and relations between Latin American nations and with the rest of the world. Articles shall also be considered that deal primarily with domestic Latin American politics when such have clear implications for foreign policy. In addition, the editors shall welcome essays from both scholars and public figures addressing political, social, economic, and cultural aspects of the international relations of Latin America. Lastly, we shall be pleased to review articles that dwell on the policy implications and relevance for Latin America of issues that have been explored in their technical and substantive details elsewhere.

This is a refereed journal. All submissions are sent to qualified reviewers to determine acceptance for publication.

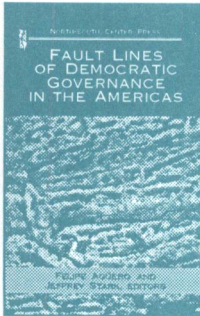

Send manuscripts in duplicate to address below, typewritten and double spaced. Place footnotes, references, tables, and charts on separate pages following current Journal style. All articles submitted should be accompanied by an abstract of 150 words or less.

Upon acceptance, you will be asked to provide all tables and charts accompanying the manuscript on computer disks (either IBM-compatible or Macintosh) in addition to two complete, double-spaced printouts of disk material. Tables, charts, maps or other graphic materials will not be used unless provided on computer disks and in a file that is separate from that of the text. If not created by the author, permission to use such graphic materials must be provided in writing. Columns in tables and charts should use tabs instead of individual spacing. A brief biographical sketch of the author should accompany the final manuscript.

Correspondence regarding book reviews should be directed to the Book Review Editor at the Journal of Interamerican Studies and World Affairs, University of Miami, P.O. Box 284123, Coral Gables, FL, 33124-3010.

FAULT LINES OF DEMOCRATIC GOVERNANCE IN THE AMERICAS

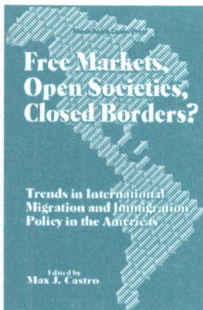

edited by Felipe Agüero and Jeffrey Stark

January 1998, ca. 128 pages, ISBN: 1-57454-047-5 paper/$13.95

Concerns about democratization in Latin America today center not on the threat of authoritarian regression, but on the depth, quality, fairness, and completeness of democratization thus far. Large-scale economic and social reforms, stronger and more complex civil societies, and processes of integration and globalization call for new approaches in order to understand the unfolding of democracy in the region. In this context, the contributors to the volume explore the often disjunctive aspects of Latin American democracy, providing a nuanced understanding of contemporary democratic governance.

Felipe Agüero is assistant professor of political science at Ohio State University.

Jeffrey Stark is director of research and studies of the North-South Center at the University of Miami.

FREE MARKETS, OPEN SOCIETIES, CLOSED BORDERS? TRENDS IN INTERNATIONAL MIGRATION AND IMMIGRATION POLICY IN THE AMERICAS

edited by Max J. Castro

April 1998, ca. 344 pages, ISBN: 1-57454-053-X, paper/$25.95

Latin American immigration into the United States has increased dramatically in recent decades. Immigration also has emerged as a focus of debate in several other countries in the hemisphere. At a time when many immigrant-sending nations are becoming increasingly reliant on money sent home by their nationals, the United States, Canada, and other immigrant-receiving societies are tightening immigration policies while promoting free trade and hemispheric integration. Where will these developments lead? Will countries in the North adopt ever more restrictive immigration laws? Would stricter laws be effective? What trends in the South make enforcement of immigration controls difficult, if not impossible? Are free trade agreements and restrictive immigration policies compatible? In this volume, leading scholars analyze these and other critical questions.

Max Castro, a sociologist, is a senior research associate of the North-South Center at the University of Miami.
