Submission of Manuscripts

Manuscripts with a diversity of styles and contents are welcome. Four (4) copies, should be sent to the Editor-in-Chief. Manuscripts may be submitted in the original language for review purposes only. If a manuscript is accepted for publication it must be translated into English. Potential contributors who cannot arrange for the translation of their manuscripts should contact the Editor-in-Chief.

Reviewing of Manuscripts

Each manuscript (with author's name(s) removed) is evaluated by at least two reviewers, usually members of the Editorial Board, and authors are sent copies of the reviewers' comments together with the decision on publication. It is a condition of acceptance that manuscripts have not already appeared in print (with limited exceptions for manuscripts which have been published in certain languages other than English).

The next issue of the Journal will develop themes touched upon in this number. Features will include a survey of legislative provisions designed to protect the Irish archaeological heritage and a discussion of the illicit trade in cultural property of the People's Republic of China. Other topics to be covered include a report on a recent meeting of experts in the United States concerned with legal issues in the antiquities trade. The Journal will also focus on recent developments in cultural property management in the Middle East. The usual range of Case Notes, Essays, Conference Reports and Documents will appear, disclosing among other things a new version of the draft UNIDROIT Convention on the International Protection of Cultural Property and details of a Resolution passed by the International Congress of Maritime Museums. Contributors to the sixth issue of the Journal will include J. David Murphy, Dr. Eamonn Kelly and Dr. Kurt Siehr.
