The Sisters Are Asking

By WILFRID HERBST, S.D.S.

Religious have frequently noted that the difficulty with so much spiritual writing is that it often tends to be general and theoretical rather than particular and practical. Sister X may be edified to read that she ought to guard against distractions in chapel. But what she may really want to know is how anyone can pray at all, with young Sister Y clicking her rosary like an electric typewriter, and old Sister Z rasping over it as if it were strangling her.

Father Herbst has gathered here a stimulating collection of the questions he has received as a retreat master over the years, and the answers are hopeful, helpful and to the point.

Franciscan Perfection

By CESAIRE DE TOURS, O.F.M.Cap. Translated by P. Barrett, O.F.M.Cap.

"... It makes St Francis live again and gives the reader a share in his devotion to "Christ, Poor and Crucified"... It brings out this ruling thought so vividly and at the same time so gently that one begins to regret having spent so long searching elsewhere for lessons in spirituality, when it would have been so simple to have become a pupil in the school of St Francis."—Cardinal Mercier
