

Religion and Literature

Helen Gardner

Two sets of Dame Helen's lectures are brought together for the first time in paper covers. Religion and Tragedy considers both Greek and Shakespearian tragedy, and Religious Poetry concentrates on the poetry of religious devotion in England. 'Written with Professor Gardner's characteristic brilliance of style.' Spectator Paperback £4.95

The English Catholic Church in the Nineteenth Century

Edward Norman

'Dr Norman's study is an authoritative, absorbing account of Roman Catholicism's emergence into the light of English society. His masterly, and readable, book shows just how far the Roman Catholic Church has advanced since Newman had a sack of flour poured over him for wearing Oratorian habit in public.' Daily Telegraph. £22.50 Clarendon Press

The Frankish Church

J. M. Wallace-Hadrill

This book surveys the development of the Frankish Church under the Merovingian and Carolingian kings (approximately 500–900 AD) and the special difficulties it encountered during its advance towards the Church of medieval France. This is the third volume in the Oxford History of the Christian Church series, which will ultimately provide a full survey of the Christian Churches and their part in the religious heritage of humanity. £35.00 Clarendon Press

The Origins of Christianity

A Historical Introduction to the New Testament

Schuyler Brown

Investigates the foundation of the new religious movement in the life of Jesus, the experiences which prompted missionary activity after his death, the factors which led to a separation of the movement from Judaism, and the development of the ecclesial structures through which Christianity has influenced subsequent secular and religious history.

Paperback £3.95 Oxford Bible Series

THE WORLD'S RELIGIOUS TRADITIONS

Current Perspectives in Religious Studies

Essays in honour of Wilfred Cantwell Smith
edited by Frank Whaling

Five contributors take Professor Smith's concepts of faith and tradition as a starting point in their essays on particular religions (Christianity, Judaism, Hinduism, the Muslim and the Confucian traditions). Followed by seven essays which examine current approaches to the study of religion.

Contributors: Frank Whaling, J. L. Mehta, Tu Wei-Ming, Louis Jacobs, George Williams, Annemarie Schimmel, John Hick, George Rupp, Seyyed Hossein Nasr, Raimundo Pannikar, John Carman, Geoffrey Parrinder, Ninian Smart

'A fascinating volume in the vanguard of exploration of proper orientation in the study of religion and religions ... essential reading for all engaged in theology and religious studies'
Professor Cyril G. Williams, University of Wales

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. Contributions and books for review should be sent to the new Editor, Professor S. R. Sutherland, King's College, Strand, London, WC2R 2LS.
2. Articles submitted to the journal should in general be between 5,000 and 10,000 words long, though articles outside these limits will be acceptable if there is some good reason for their exceptional length or brevity. Articles in two or more parts may occasionally be accepted provided each part is independently intelligible. They should normally be in English.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
4. Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing, preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. The typescript should be prepared to accord as closely as possible with the typographical conventions of the journal.
5. Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered in one sequence throughout the article, and should preferably be typed in double spacing at the end of the article.
6. Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
7. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within ten days of receiving them.
8. Correction should be kept to an absolute minimum. It should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorises otherwise.
9. All contributors of articles receive 50 free offprints. Reviewers will receive five or more offprints of their reviews.
10. If rejected manuscripts are to be returned, stamps or international coupons should be sent to cover postage, but it would normally be simpler just to retain a copy.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
