Exercises in Analysis

Essays by Students of Casimir Lewy

Ian Hacking, Editor

A volume of original essays of analytical philosophy, on topics of current interest in ethics and the philosophy of logic and language. Topics include the making of wicked promises and G. E. Moore's early ethical views, as well as indexicals, tense, and indeterminism. A representation of the "Cambridge" voice of philosophy.

Hardcover $39.50

The Presocratic Philosophers

A Critical History with a Selection of Texts

(Second Edition)

G. S. Kirk, J. E. Raven, M. Schofield

A second edition of the book that has become established as a classic. It traces the intellectual revolution initiated by Thales in the early sixth century B.C. to its culmination in the metaphysics of Parmenides and the physical theories of Anaxagoras and the Atomists of the fifth century. Includes a new introduction and some major revision that accounts for new developments.

Hardcover $59.50 Paperback $17.95

The Philosophical Writings of Descartes

Volumes I and II

Translators: John Cottingham, Robert Stoothoff,

Dugald Murdoch

An accurate and authoritative translation in modern English of the philosophical works of Descartes, based on the best available Latin and French texts. Also included are a number of other texts crucial for understanding Cartesian philosophy and a broad selection of his scientific writings.

Hardcover $44.50 Paperback $12.95 each

Promising, Intending, and Moral Autonomy

Michael H. Robins

A discussion of the connection between the philosophical analysis of action and ethical theory. Robins argues that a primitive notion of commitment is involved in the very notion of an intention and, consequently, in the notions of decisions, vows, and promises. An addition to the field of theory of action.

Hardcover $29.95

Justifying Historical Descriptions

C. Behan McCullagh

A philosophical inquiry into the problem of judging the truth of historical descriptions, a topic of central concern to all the social sciences. The author analyzes various arguments about the past employed by historians, and concludes that no historical description can finally be proved.

Hardcover $44.50 Paperback $12.95

---

Philosophical Papers

Volume I: Human Agency and Language

Volume II: Philosophy and the Human Sciences

Charles Taylor

A selection of the published papers of one of the most original and influential figures in contemporary philosophy. Starting from a general critique of naturalism, Taylor presents a more positive account of human agency and the self, the constitutive role of language and value, and the scope of practical reason.

Hardcover $39.50    Paperback $12.95 Each

Metaphysics

D. W. Hamlyn

A clear introduction to metaphysics. Hamlyn discusses central metaphysical concepts and problems, including the principles of ontology, substance, particulars and universals, monism and pluralism, space and time, minds, selves, and personal identity.

Hardcover $34.50    Paperback $9.95

Metaphysics: Its Structure and Function

Stephen Körner

An ambitious and substantial study of metaphysics—its nature and inescapability. Körner's method may be described as "philosophical anthropology"; it aims to arrive at a characterization of the metaphysical beliefs with which we have to operate.

Hardcover $39.50

Philosophical Dimensions of Privacy

An Anthology

Ferdinand D. Schoeman, Editor

An anthology of important and influential essays on a theme of widespread interest and implication. Written from a range of perspectives, these essays explore the meaning and moral significance of privacy. The collection includes an extensive introduction by the editors.

Hardcover $39.50    Paperback $13.95

Ethics and the Rule of Law

David Lyons

An introduction to the philosophy of law which offers a modern and critical appraisal of all the main issues and problems. Pressing questions are discussed, including the justification of punishment, civil disobedience, the enforcement of morality, and problems about justice, rights, welfare, and freedom.

Hardcover $29.95    Paperback $8.95

Conference on Argumentation, Amsterdam, June 1986

The First International Conference on Argumentation will be held June 3-5, 1986 in Amsterdam, the Netherlands, chaired by Frans H. van Eemeren and Rob Grootendorst (University of Amsterdam). Papers are invited from scholars in different countries in various disciplines (linguistics, philosophy, psychology, sociology, speech communication) and from different approaches (empirical, normative, rhetorical, dialectical). Topics may range from very general issues and methodological problems to more specific topics such as fallacies, suppressed premisses, argumentation schemata, argumentation in law or politics, etc. The proceedings will be published. Papers will be blind refereed. Send abstracts (in English) by December 15, 1985 to: Francisca Jungslager, Instituut voor Neerlandistiek, Spuistraat 134, 1012 VB AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands. For further information contact the Chairmen or the North American members of the planning committee: J. Anthony Blair (University of Windsor) and Charles A. Willard (University of Louisville).
