A NEW BIRTH IN NOVEMBER. . . .

Claremont Review OF BOOKS

The Claremont Review of Books is a new quarterly journal published by the Claremont Institute. The CRB was the flagship publication of the Institute during its early years. It published interviews and essays on politics and public figures and examined the most important books of the day. Now the CRB returns with a new look, but with the same commitment to incisive commentary that distinguished its predecessor.

The Review will be edited by Charles Kesler, Senior Fellow of the Claremont Institute and Professor of Government at Claremont McKenna College.

In the inaugural issue of November 19, Dr. Kesler will review Harry Jaffa's A New Birth of Freedom, and Ken Masugi will examine the new Tocqueville translation by Harvey Mansfield and Delba Winthrop. In forthcoming issues: Mark Blitz on Heidegger, James Nichols on Kojeve, and Michael Uhlmann on the Supreme Court.

A one year subscription to the CRB costs $19.95; A two year subscription is $37.95; and a three year subscription is $54.95. Contributors of $500 or more to The Claremont Institute receive a complimentary one year subscription.

To subscribe, please call Nancy Padilla at (909) 621-6825, or visit our website at www.claremont.org.

THE NATURAL RIGHTS REPUBLIC

Studies in the Foundation of the American Political Tradition

Michael P. Zuckert

"Zuckert's book is a powerful exposition of the most central political principles of [the American] founding. Its elegant articulation of its own thesis, together with its insightful analysis and critique of a wide variety of alternative views, makes it an extremely important contribution to debates on our national origins, which all serious students of the founding and of liberalism will have to confront."—First Things

KOSOVO

CONTENDING VOICES ON BALKAN INTERVENTIONS

EDITED BY William Joseph Buckley

"Kosovo remains on the front pages. Its tragedy continues to perturb our individual and collective conscience. In this volume readers will learn what has — and has not — been done to stop the bloodshed and save the victims of the ancestral yet contemporary plague of fanaticism." — ELIE WIESEL

Author of Night

"A book of great fairness and clarity. . . . Worthy of its tangled subject."

— FOUAD AJAMI

Johns Hopkins University

"This remarkable collection of essays by Serbs and Albanians, statesmen and commentators, philosophers and politicians, is an object lesson in how world crises and disasters need to be analyzed and discussed. . . . Indispensable reading for foreign policy makers, moral philosophers, government agencies, and university faculties. The boundaries of international law, morality, history, and politics have rarely been as well mapped."

— STEPHEN E. TOULMIN

University of Southern California

"A wonderfully diverse collection of essays, memoirs, letters, and interviews that comprises a robust spectrum of views on the Kosovo conflict and the NATO air campaign. . . . Highly recommended."

Classic Works for Readers Today

DAVID HUME

Prophet of the Counter-revolution

Second Edition

By Laurence L. Bongie

Foreword by Donald Livingston

Though usually Edmund Burke is identified as the first to articulate the principles of a modern conservative political tradition, arguably he was preceded by a Scotsman who is better known for espousing a brilliant concept of skepticism. As Laurence Bongie notes, "David Hume was undoubtedly the eighteenth-century British writer whose works were most widely known and acclaimed on the Continent during the later Enlightenment period. Hume's impact [in France] was of undeniable importance, greater even for a time than the related influence of Burke, although it represents a contribution to French counter-revolutionary thought which, unlike that of Burke, has been almost totally ignored by historians to this day." The bulk of Bongie's work consists of the writings of French readers of Hume who were confronted, first, by the ideology of human perfection and, finally, by the actual terrors of the French Revolution. Offered in French in the original edition of David Hume published by Oxford University Press in 1965, these vitally important writings have been translated by the author into English for the Liberty Fund second edition. In his foreword, Donald Livingston observes that "If conservatism is taken to be an intellectual critique of the first attempt at modern total revolution, then the first such event was not the French but the Puritan revolution, and the first systematic critique of this sort of act was given by Hume."
