

FROM THE BUSINESS MANAGER'S DESK

Dear Subscriber(s)

At the present time there are about 1,000 of you. In the next issue we hope to be able to give you a breakdown on the sorts of people that are subscribing to this new Journal.

In the meantime however, what we need more than anything is more of you. About 1,000 more to be exact.

That is to make us, as they say a viable operation.

Now this is where you come in.

We have one thousand and we need two thousand and you're probably getting the picture.

If every one of you campaigned on our behalf, canvassed a colleague, cajoled a comrade, coned an unwary non-subscriber or

Australian Child and Family Welfare is the First Journal of its kind in Australia.

It will be a valuable resource for all people concerned in decision-making, development, administration and research of child and family welfare in Australia.

Future editions will contain contributions from academics and practitioners in the fields of —

- Child and Family Care
- Residential & Supportive Care
- Family Law
- Marriage Guidance

It will provide an important reference for teachers and students concerned with welfare issues, particularly in the areas of children, youth, marriage and the family.
