The Cornell
Wordsworth

General Editor:
STEPHEN PARRISH

Three new volumes . . .

“POEMS IN TWO VOLUMES,” AND OTHER POEMS, 1800–1807

Edited by JARED CURTIS. This edition presents all available textual evidence for the lyric and shorter narrative poems Wordsworth composed between 1800 and 1807, and features the collection titled Poems, in Two Volumes, which he published in 1807. $95.00

AN EVENING WALK

Edited by JAMES AVERILL. An Evening Walk is the first long poem Wordsworth completed. Initially composed during his college years (1787–1789), it was originally published in 1793, revised in 1794, reprinted in another version in 1820, and reprinted again in 1836. Nine years later, Wordsworth was still tinkering with it. Studied over its fifty-eight-year gestation, it reveals much about the poet’s development and changing artistic principles. (Coming in January) $38.50

DESCRIPTIVE SKETCHES

Edited by ERIC BIRDSALL with the assistance of PAUL M. ZALL. Wordsworth published this poem simultaneously with An Evening Walk in 1793, and although he began to alter it soon after it first appeared in print, he did not undertake extensive revisions until 1836. He continued to revise the text until the last lifetime edition (1849–50), but most of the changes after the 1836 printing are minor. Thus the 1836 text can be regarded as the final version. (Coming in January) $48.50
