Dialogue: Canadian Philosophical Review / Revue canadienne de philosophie

Published for the Canadian Philosophical Association/
L'Association canadienne de philosophie

Editors

Susan Dimock, York University, Canada
Luc Langlois, Université Laval, Canada

Dialogue is the official journal of the Canadian Philosophical Association. Its purpose is to publish high quality peer-reviewed scholarly articles, book symposia, critical notices, and book reviews, in support of the Association's mandate to promote philosophical scholarship and education. It is open to contributions in all branches of philosophy and from any philosophical perspective. Readers include professional teachers of philosophy, graduate students, and others with an interest in the field.

Economics & Philosophy

Editors

Richard Bradley, London School of Economics, UK
Martin van Hees, University of Amsterdam, Netherlands
François Maniquet, CORE (Université Catholique de Louvain), Belgium
John A. Weymark, Vanderbilt University, USA

The disciplines of economics and philosophy each possess their own special analytical methods, whose combination is powerful and fruitful. Each discipline can be enriched by the other. Economics & Philosophy aims to promote their mutual enrichment by publishing articles and book reviews in all areas linking these subjects. Topics include the methodology and epistemology of economics, the foundations of decision theory and game theory, the nature of rational choice in general, historical work on economics with a philosophical purpose, ethical issues in economics, the use of economic techniques in ethical theory, and many other subjects.

Episteme

A journal of individual and social epistemology

Editor-in-Chief

Jennifer Lackey, Northwestern University, USA

Episteme is a general journal of epistemology in the analytic tradition that invites both informal and formal approaches. Among its primary "traditional" topics are knowledge, justification, evidence, reasons, rationality, skepticism, truth, probability, epistemic norms and values, and methodology. The journal devotes special attention to issues in social epistemology, including testimony, trust, disagreement, relativism, diversity and expertise, collective judgment, and the epistemic assessment of social institutions (e.g., science, law, democracy, and the media). The journal welcomes interdisciplinary approaches to epistemology that borrow methods from allied disciplines such as experimental psychology, linguistics, economics, game theory, evolutionary theory, and computer simulation studies.

Kantian Review

Editors

Howard Williams, Aberystwyth University, UK

Graham Bird, University of Manchester, UK

Richard Aquila, University of Tennessee, USA

Kantian Review publishes articles and reviews selected for their quality and relevance to current philosophical debate in relation to Kant's work. In recent times Kant's philosophy has influenced contemporary philosophers over a wide range of issues from epistemology, metaphysics and philosophy of science to moral and political philosophy, philosophy of religion, aesthetics and teleology. Kantian Review invites contributions to these debates along with original accounts of Kant's texts, and of the development of his thought in its historical background.

Philosophy

Published for the Royal Institute of Philosophy

Editor

Anthony O'Hear, University of Buckingham, UK

Philosophy is the journal of the Royal Institute of Philosophy, which was founded in 1925 to build bridges between specialist philosophers and a wider educated public. The journal continues to fulfil a dual role: it is one of the leading academic journals of philosophy, but it also serves the philosophical interests of specialists in other fields (law, language, literature and the arts, medicine, politics, religion, science, education, psychology, history) and those of the general reader. Contributors are required to avoid needless technicality of language and presentation. Each issue contains an editorial on a topic of philosophical or public interest, and a 'New Books' section.

The institutional subscription includes two supplements and a subscription to Think.
