Afrikaners of the Kalahari

White Minority in a Black State

MARGO and MARTIN RUSSELL

This book describes the complex and mundane reality of ethnic relations in the Kalahari, not only under the present relentless pressures to enter the cash economy of modernisation, but also in the past. The authors examine the 'Africanisation' of these poor white pastoralists of the interior, cut off from those influences which gave contemporary Afrikanerdom its particular cast.

A Modern History of Tanganyika

JOHN ILIFFE

This is the first comprehensive and fully-documented history of modern Tanganyika before independence. After introductory chapters on the nineteenth century, Dr Iliffe concentrates on the colonial period, and especially on economic, social, and intellectual change among Africans as the core of their colonial experience and the basis of their political behaviour.

A History of African Christianity 1950–75

ADRIAN HASTINGS

This book surveys the history of Christianity throughout sub-Saharan Africa during the third quarter of this century. Beginning in 1950 at a time when the churches were still part of the colonial order, it continues through the coming of political independence and the transformations of the 1960s and early 1970s. Equal attention is paid to the three main sections of African Christianity – Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Independent.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Contributions to the Journal are welcomed. They may be submitted in either English or French. They should not exceed about 6000 words (excluding footnotes), except with the prior approval of the Editors. A summary of the contents of the article, not exceeding about 300 words in length, should be attached on a separate sheet. Contributors are asked to observe closely the conventions listed in the Notes for Contributors, Vol. XV, pp. 173-4. It is essential that contributors observe these conventions, as the Journal now goes straight into page proof. This severely limits the number of corrections which are possible.

Page proofs will be sent, if necessary by airmail, to each contributor (or his nominee) provided that the Editors have been given an address through which he can be reached without delay. Corrections should be kept to the minimum, and should be corrections, not new material. If they are to be incorporated in the master proof corrected by the Editors, it is important that the contributor should return the page proofs, by airmail if necessary, to the Editor named when they are sent out (and not to the Cambridge University Press), within ten days of his receipt of them.

Contributors of articles and review articles receive 25 free offprints. Additional offprints may be obtained at reasonable cost, provided that they are ordered before publication on the special form sent out with the page proofs.

All contributions and books for review should be addressed to The Editors, The Journal of African History, School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London, London, W.C.1.
