

GIFTS AND BEQUESTS

The Renaissance Society of America is an institution incorporated in the State of New York for the encouragement of Renaissance studies. Gifts to the Society are allowable federal income tax deductions, within the limits provided by law, and bequests are exempt from inheritance tax. The Society's exact title is THE RENAISSANCE SOCIETY OF AMERICA, INC. and this should be used in making gifts or bequests. The Society is very young and badly in need of capital funds. See the annual report on pages 21 to 30.

HOMERIC RENAISSANCE: THE ODYSSEY OF GEORGE CHAPMAN

George deForest Lord

Chapman saw in Odysseus' career a painful process of self-discipline and self-discovery. Mr. Lord evaluates the great Elizabethan translation in the light of traditional and contemporary scholarship.

'Scholarly thoroughness and critical perceptiveness combine to make a full, fresh, and illuminating study of Chapman's translation and, along with that, to provide a suggestive approach to Homer himself, to enrich our appreciation of the Renaissance humanism Chapman so fervently embodies, and to enrich also our understanding of the art and function of a translator.' Douglas Bush.

at your bookseller $3.00

Yale University Press NEW HAVEN · CONNECTICUT

Unity in Shakespearean Tragedy

BRENTS STIRLING. An original and distinguished contribution to Shakespeare criticism, this forceful volume analyzes the interplay of theme and character in seven of the tragedies. 'Professor Stirling's scholarly analysis is Shakespearean interpretation of a high order. His method might well be applied to other plays, ancient or modern.'—Voices $3.75

Leicester, Patron of Letters

ELEANOR ROSENBERG. With emphasis on significant political and religious motivations, this study traces the development of literary patronage in Elizabethan England. 'It does not often happen that a piece of literary research throws so much light on a familiar period.'—The Times Literary Supplement $5.25

Studies in the Shakespeare Apocrypha

BALDWIN MAXWELL. This scholarly and ingenious volume analyzes four dramas included in the Fourth Folio. The result is 'a fascinating inquiry into the authorship of four plays once ascribed to Shakespeare's pen.'—Cincinnati Times Star $4.25

Rhetoric in Greco-Roman Education

DONALD LEMEN CLARK. Here is a vivid, authoritative account of the educational methods used by ancient teachers in the grammar schools and schools of rhetoric. Professor Clark shows how these methods actually contributed to the creativeness of classical thinking. $4.50

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY PRESS

2960 Broadway, New York 27, New York