INTRODUCTION TO ECONOMICS, Second Edition

by THEODORE MORGAN, University of Wisconsin

Completely up-dated and thoroughly reorganized, the new Second Edition of this popular text provides your students with a sound introduction to economics—an introduction concerned with the dynamics of life rather than an isolated special discipline.

Increased emphasis on economic growth and the problems of under-developed areas plus greater simplicity of presentation are two features of this thorough revision.

799 pages. 6" × 9". Published 1956

GOVERNMENT BY THE PEOPLE, Second Edition

(NATIONAL EDITION and NATIONAL STATE LOCAL)

by JAMES M. BURNS, Williams College and JACK W. PELTASON, University of Illinois

Adoption records for the Second Edition of this detailed and well-organized description of the United States government are impressive. Professors appreciate the authors' emphasis on the dynamic aspects of politics and government. They value, too, the numerous case studies drawn from contemporary issues, including, for example, the Supreme Court rulings on segregation in the schools. The Teachers' Manual with its suggested projects, discussion and lecture ideas, and exercises and quizzes is a further reason for the mounting popularity of this text.

*Natl. Edition—906 pages, N-S-L Edition—1070 pages. 6" × 9".

STATE INTERVENTION AND ASSISTANCE IN COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

by H. A. Logan

This most recent addition to the Canadian Studies in Economics Series is a discussion of the industrial relations policy developed through the wartime series of Orders-in-Council which became the basis of post-war legislation. Professor Logan considers here the important question of the extent to which provincial and Dominion governments should and can intervene in collective bargaining without replacing it.

vii + 176 pages $3.00

CANADA'S IMMIGRATION
POLICY by David C. Corbett

This new book is a description and commentary on Canadian immigration practice which considers more than the apparent issues of administration and policy. Professor Corbett reaches his conclusions in a critique which transcends the usual limits of scholarly detachment and becomes an essay in economic ethics; it is bound to rouse both strong agreement and strong disagreement among readers.

I BROUGHT THE AGES HOME

The autobiography of Charles Trick Currelly, first Curator of the Royal Ontario Museum of Archaeology. With an introduction by Dr. Homer Thompson, Princeton. An amazing life story, told with wit and charm. Dr. Currelly was on the staff of Sir Flinders Petrie in Egypt before World War I. Illustrated. $6.00

ARTIST AT WAR

By Charles Comfort. One of Canada's outstanding artists here gives an account of his personal experiences during World War II. He served as an official war artist in Italy, making a visual record of the part played by the 1st Canadian Infantry Division in the Italian Campaign, 1943-1944. A fascinating book. Beautifully illustrated. $4.95

SAM SLICK IN PICTURES

C. W. Jefferys made a series of 102 drawings, forty years ago, for a subscription set of Thomas Chandler Haliburton's work. The set never appeared. The drawings, together with descriptive text, are here made available in a beautiful and spicy book—the best of Sam Slick, together with some of Jefferys' best work. $4.00
