

NEW FROM SCHOCKEN

RASHI

by Elie Wiesel

Translated by
Catherine Temerson

From Elie Wiesel, a magical book that introduces us to the towering figure of Rashi—Rabbi Shlomo Yitzchaki—the great biblical and Talmudic commentator of the Middle Ages. Wiesel, a descendant of Rashi, proves an incomparable guide who enables us to appreciate both the lucidity of Rashi’s writings and the milieu in which they were formed.

GIRLS OF ROOM 28

Friendship, Hope, and Survival in Theresienstadt

by Hannelore Brenner

Translated by
John E. Woods and
Shelley Frisch

From 1942 to 1944, twelve thousand children passed through the Theresienstadt internment camp, near Prague, on their way to Auschwitz. Only a few hundred of them survived the war. In The Girls of Room 28, ten of these children—mothers and grandmothers today in their seventies—tell us how they did it.

“This beautiful evocation of heartwarming friendship in the darkest of times is unforgettable.” —Elie Wiesel

A FINE ROMANCE

Jewish Songwriters,
American Songs

by David Lehman

“David Lehman’s A Fine Romance wittily explores the enormous contribution of Jewish writers and composers to the American musical scene. Lehman finds Jewish influence, or what he calls ‘a plaintive undertow,’ even in such unlikely upbeat anthems as Gershwin’s ‘Love Walked In.’ His love-struck history is itself a major entertainment.”

THE WICKED SON

Anti-Semitism, Self-Hatred,
and the Jews

by David Mamet

Now in Paperback

Written with the searing honesty and verbal brilliance that is the hallmark of David Mamet’s work, The Wicked Son is a powerfully thought-provoking look at one of the most destructive and tenacious forces in contemporary life. Mamet’s interest in anti-Semitism is not limited to the modern face of an ancient hatred but encompasses as well the ways in which many Jews have internalized that hatred.

The Zohar 5
Pritzker Edition, Volume Five

Translation and Commentary
by DANIEL C. MATT

This fifth volume of The Zohar: Pritzker Edition opens in the middle of Exodus immediately following the revelation at Mount Sinai. The volume concludes with one of the shortest yet most important sections of the Zohar—The Book of Concealment. This enigmatic and poetic composition contains a veiled description of God’s body, focusing on the beard.

JEWISH LIFE & LAW

Cosmopolitans

A Social and Cultural History of the Jews of the San Francisco Bay Area

FRED ROSENBAUM

Told through an astonishing range of characters and events, Cosmopolitans illuminates many aspects of Jewish life in the area. Focusing in rich detail on the first hundred years after the Gold Rush, the book also takes the story up to the present day, demonstrating how unusually strong affinities for the arts and for the struggle for social justice have characterized this community even as it has changed over time.

Halakhah in the Making

The Development of Jewish Law from Qumran to the Rabbis

AHARON SHEMESH

"Shemesh outlines in an accessible form the major features of the history of halakhah between the Dead Sea Scrolls and the early rabbinic traditions. While agreeing with other scholars on the conservative, stringent approach to halakhah of both the Sadducees and the authors of the Scrolls, Shemesh argues that this approach surprisingly had more impact on Pharisaic and rabbinic Judaism than usually assumed.... A unique and original thesis."

Ghosts of Home

The Afterlife of Czernowitz in Jewish Memory

MARIANNE HIRSCH and LEO SPITZER

In modern-day Ukraine, east of the Carpathian Mountains, there is an invisible city. Known as Czernowitz, this vibrant Jewish-German Eastern European culture vanished after World War II—yet an idealized version lives on, suspended in the memories of its dispersed people and passed down to their children like a precious and haunted heirloom. Hirsch and Spitzer find evidence of a cosmopolitan culture of nostalgic lore—but also of oppression and shattered promises. It is a powerful journey through time and place, to confront a home that both sheltered and expelled its people.

The Cambridge History of Jewish Philosophy
From Antiquity through the Seventeenth Century

EDITED BY STEVEN NADLER AND T.M. RUDAVSKY

The first volume in this comprehensive work is an exploration of the history of Jewish philosophy from its beginnings in antiquity to the early modern period, with a particular emphasis on medieval Jewish thought. Unlike most histories, encyclopedias, guides, or companions of Jewish philosophy, this volume is organized by philosophical topic rather than by chronology or individual figures. There are sections on logic and language; natural philosophy; epistemology, philosophy of mind, and psychology; metaphysics and philosophical theology; and practical philosophy. There are also chapters on the intellectual background of Jewish philosophy, including Islamic and Greek thought and the Jewish philosophical textual traditions. With essays by leading scholars in the field, this volume provides the reader with a wonderful overview of the richness and sophistication of Jewish philosophy in its golden age.

Biblical Hebrew
with CD-ROM

Brian L. Webster

“The inclusion of the Interactive CD-ROM is, in my opinion, worth the price of the book...

Overall, I highly recommend The Cambridge Introduction to Biblical Hebrew whether for the person interested in learning first year Hebrew individually or for professors of Bible colleges or seminaries who are looking for a cutting-edge grammar to use in the classroom.”

–Rob Kashow, Tolle Lege! A Canonical Perspective

1 CD-ROM, 1 Pb | 978-0-521-71284-2 | 39.99 USD | 380 pp.

The Cambridge Introduction to Biblical Hebrew is designed for anyone studying biblical Hebrew for the first time. It is well suited for students enrolled in introductory-level courses as well as clergy and laity engaged in self-study. The accompanying CD (suitable for Mac and PC) includes the workbook, answers, paradigms, and the interactive program TekScroll.

Features:

- ▶ Interactive program TekScroll illustrates important grammatical concepts with moving graphics and provides practice items for recognizing forms (parsing) and translation and studying vocabulary
- ▶ Exercises and practice items build on vocabulary from previous chapters, allowing immediate in-class practice without the burden of learning new vocabulary first
- ▶ Cross-referenced to the second-year textbook, A Guide to Biblical Hebrew Syntax by Bill T. Arnold and John Choi, with additional pointers on how to use reference works on syntax

Central European History

Editors:

Kenneth Ledford, Case Western Reserve University, USA

Catherine Epstein, Amherst College, USA

Published for the Central European History Conference Group of the American Historical Association

Central European History offers articles, review essays, and book reviews that range widely through the history of Germany, Austria, and other German-speaking regions of Central Europe from the medieval era to the present. All topics and approaches to history are welcome, whether cultural, social, political, diplomatic, intellectual, economic, and military history, as well as historiography and methodology. Contributions that treat new fields, such as post-1945 and post-1989 history, maturing fields such as gender history, and less-represented fields such as medieval history and the history of the Habsburg lands are especially desired. The journal thus aims to be the primary venue for scholarly exchange and debate among scholars of the history of Central Europe.

Central European History is especially valuable for:

- cultural and social historians
- political scientists
- historians of Central Europe, Germany, and German-speaking regions
- intellectual historians
- military historians

CALL FOR PAPERS
Politics and Religion

Published by
Cambridge University Press
on behalf of the
Religion and Politics Section of the

American Political Science Association

Editors:

Ted G. Jelen, University of Nevada at Las Vegas, USA
Sabrina P. Ramet, Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Norway

Politics and Religion, published on behalf of the Religion and Politics Section of the American Political Science Association, is a new peer-reviewed journal providing original research into all aspects of the relationship between politics and religion around the world.

The impact of religion on political attitudes, decision-making, and public policy development is analyzed, with topics ranging from abortion laws, sex education in schools, and stem cell research to transnational terrorism, morality, social justice, and human rights.

The journal is multidisciplinary and international in scope, with contributions coming from all relevant areas, including political science, theology, law, philosophy, sociology, history, area studies, and economics. Studies of public religion, secular-religious conflicts, and political divisions within a religion – from within and outside the Judeo-Christian tradition, including works from Islamic, Hindu, Buddhist and scholars of Eastern traditions – are especially welcome.

Book reviews are also part of the journal's coverage.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

AJS Review publishes scholarly articles and book reviews covering the field of Jewish Studies. From biblical and rabbinic textual and historical studies to modern history, social sciences, the arts, and literature, the journal welcomes articles of interest to both academic and lay audiences around the world. A substantial portion of each volume is devoted to reviews of the latest Judaic scholarship and review essays on current trends in the field.

MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION

Manuscripts for consideration should be e-mailed as a MS Word or rich text file to the AJS Review managing editor at ajsreview@ajs.cjh.org. Articles will be put through a process of blind refereeing. Authors should avoid any identifying references in their submissions and provide a separate title page with their name, contact information, and institutional affiliation along with a short abstract (ca. 200 words). Manuscripts should conform to Chicago Manual of Style, ed. 15. Authors of accepted articles will be asked to prepare a final version in the journal's style, which is available online at: www.ajsnet.org/ajsreview.htm

COPYRIGHT

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not been previously published and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. Authors must obtain written permission for material for which they do not own the copyright. A Copyright Transfer Agreement, with certain specified rights reserved by the author, must be signed and returned to the Editors by senior authors of accepted manuscripts, prior to publication. This is necessary for the protection of both author and the Association under copyright law.
