
CORRIGENDUM

The Effects of Elections Canada's Campaign Period Advertising—CORRIGENDUM

R. MICHAEL MCGREGOR and CAMERON D. ANDERSON

doi:10.1017/S0008423914001061, Published by Cambridge University Press, 28th November 2014.

Elections Canada was first given the power to implement public education and information programs in 1992, through Bill C-78, rather than in 2000, as the article originally stated.

Endnote 16 states that the Fair Elections Act will prohibit Elections Canada from running educational programs for students. In fact, a Senate amendment has restored Elections Canada's educational mandate for students at the primary and secondary levels.

The authors regret the error.

REFERENCE

R. Michael McGregor and Cameron D. Anderson (2014). The Effects of Elections Canada's Campaign Period Advertising. Canadian Journal of Political Science. doi:10.1017/S0008423914001061