

African Folklore Conference

The Folklore Institute of Indiana University will sponsor an African Folklore Conference, to be held in Bloomington, Indiana on July 16-18, 1970. This conference will continue the series of special summer programs in Folklore held at Indiana University every four years since 1942. Scholars from Africa, Europe, and the United States will discuss the genres of African folklore, oral tradition as literary art, the influence of African folklore on modern African literature, relationships between African folklore and American Negro lore, African folklore as a source for the historian, and teaching materials for courses in African oral traditions.

The African Folklore Conference will call attention to African folklore as an independent field of study. Further information and reservations may be obtained from the Director of the Folklore Institute, 714 East 8th Street, Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana 47401.

Symposium on African Art

The Center for African and African-American Studies of Atlanta University, in cooperation with the Art Department of the University of Georgia, will sponsor an International Symposium on African Art from November 22 to November 25, 1970. This symposium will be the successor to the Symposium held at Hampton Institute in May 1968. Mrs. Webster Plass will be Honorary Chairman. For further information, write: Dr. Richard A. Long, Director, CAAS, Atlanta University, Atlanta, Georgia 30314.
