

People in Political Science

Compiled by Carol Ann Smith

---

New Appointments

---

J. Norman Baldwin, assistant professor, Texas Tech University; formerly of the University of Georgia.

David Crowley, instructor, Augustana College; formerly of Illinois State University.

Frank C. Darling, professor, Principia College; formerly of DePauw University.

Michael Diamond, assistant professor, Department of Public Administration, University of Missouri-Columbia.

Richard C. Eichenberg, assistant professor, Florida State University; formerly of the University of California-Davis.

Jerrold D. Green, instructor, University of Michigan.

Jesse R. Goodale, assistant professor, Texas A&I University.

Paul M. Johnson, assistant professor, Florida State University; formerly of Yale University.

Donald D. Kaiper, visiting assistant professor, Texas A&I University.

Donald Kinder, associate professor with tenure, University of Michigan.

Margaret E. Leahy, assistant professor, Northeastern University; formerly of James Madison College, Michigan State University.

Benjamin A. Most, University of Iowa; formerly of Brown University.

Angustus Richard Norton, assistant professor, Department of Social Sciences, U.S. Military Academy, West Point, N.Y.; formerly of the U.N. Truce Suspension Organization (in Lebanon).

William D. Pederson, assistant professor, Louisiana State University in Shreveport; formerly of Westminster College in Missouri.

Michael Sabath, assistant professor, Department of Public Administration, University of Missouri-Columbia.

Frank Schepps, instructor, Northeastern University.

Robert Shepard, instructor, Colgate University; formerly of Johns Hopkins University.

Paul Stekler, instructor, Tulane University.

Jack R. Van Der Slik, professor of political studies and senior scholar in the Illinois Legislative Studies Center, Sangamon State University; formerly academic dean, Trinity Christian College.

Joseph Wagner, assistant professor, Colgate University.

Ernest James Wilson, assistant professor, University of Michigan.

Robert B. Woyach, associate director of the Citizenship Development and Global Education Program, The Mershon Center, Ohio State University.

---

Activities

---

Michael L. Baron, research associate, East Asian Institute, Columbia University, has been named a Mellon Post-Doctoral Fellow in Chinese Studies by the American Council of Learned Societies and the Social Science Research Council. He will spend the 1981-82 academic year as Visiting Scholar at Peking University where he will study Chinese, conduct research on Chinese foreign policy, and present a series of lectures on American foreign policy.

Devin Bent, associate professor of political science at James Madison University, has received a fellowship from the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration. He is a fellow with the Study Program Management Office of the Office of the Chief of Staff of the Army.

James Carroll has returned to his position as professor of public policy at Syracuse University after serving as director of the Advanced Study Program at the Brookings Institute.

Teh-Kuang Chang, professor of political science at Ball State University, at the invitation of Prince Sattam Bin Abdul Aziz, Vice Governor of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, gave a lecture on "Rainbow of World Civilization: Chinese Culture and Islamic Culture" at the King Abdul Aziz University at Jeddah, Saudi Arabia on June 9, 1980. After the lecture he traveled in Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Bahrain, Oman, United Kingdom of Emirates, Jordan and Syria.

James F. Conway, formerly Mayor of the City of St. Louis and Vice-President of the National Municipal League, has joined the political science faculty of the University of Missouri, St. Louis, as a lecturer in urban politics and administration.

Martha Derthick of the Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C. has been named as a representative of political science to the Assembly of Behavioral and Social Sciences of the National Research Council within the National Academy of Sciences. The other political science representative to the Assembly is John A. Ferejohn, currently on leave from California Institute of Technology to work at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences in Palo Alto.

Karl W. Deutsch has returned to teaching for the fall term at Harvard University after spending eight months as director of the International Institute for Comparative Social Research, Science Center, West Berlin. After teaching at Harvard University for the fall term 1981-82, he is scheduled to return as director of the International Institute for Comparative Social Research, Science Center, January-August, and then to teach again at Harvard University for the fall term 1982-83.

Wonmo Dong, associate professor of political science, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, is one of 12 scholars chosen nationally to receive 1981-82 Hoover Fellowships from Stanford University. Hence, he will be on a year's leave of absence from SMU.

Charles D. Elder, associate professor, is chief faculty negotiator for Washington State University chapter of the American Association of University Professors for faculty contract for 1981-82.

E. Terrence Jones, professor at the University of Missouri, St. Louis, has been awarded a fellowship on academic administration for 1981-82 by the American Council on Education.

Michael E. Kim has been appointed director of Freshman Advising and Orientation. He will continue to teach some courses as assistant professor of political science.

Hong Yung Lee, assistant professor, Marquette University, is currently on leave during 1981-82 at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, Smithsonian Institution.

John Foster Leich has received the Faculty Senate Chair award for 1981-82, for excellence in teaching, research, and university and community service. His article, "Reforma Politica: A Multiparty System for Mexico?" will appear in the November issue of Current History.

Theodore J. Lowi has been appointed to the French-American Foundation's chair of American Civilization in Paris for the 1981-82 academic year. Lowi, the John L. Senior Professor of American Institutions at Cornell, will be at the Ecole des Hautes Etudes in Sciences Sociales. He will be the second American scholar to hold the chair, succeeding David Brion Davis, the Yale historian.

Frederic Pearson, associate professor of the University of Missouri, St. Louis, has been awarded a senior fellowship in the Centre for the Study of Arms Control and International Security, the University of Lancaster, England.

People in Political Science

James P. Pfiffner is returning to California State University, Fullerton, as associate professor of political science. In 1980-81 he was a NASPAA Faculty Fellow and Special Assistant to the Deputy Director of the U.S. Office of Personnel and Management.

Lyman Tower Sargent, professor at the University of Missouri, St. Louis, has been invited to membership in the Institute for Advanced Studies, Princeton, New Jersey, for 1981-82.

Sheldon Simon, professor of political science at Arizona State University and director of its Center for Asian Studies, visited eight countries on the Asian-Pacific rim from April-June 1981 under the auspices of the International Communication Agency, the Earhart Foundation, and the new Phoenix-based Pacific Basin Institute. In addition to conducting research interviews on regional security and lecturing on related topics, Simon extended invitations to some 23 Asian universities for affiliation with the Pacific Basin Institute's research consortium, which is to be located near Arizona State.

Edward R. Tufts, professor of political science and statistics at Yale University, has been elected a Fellow of the American Statistical Association. He was also reappointed to the Committee on National Statistics of the National Academy of Sciences for 1981-83.

Lawrence Ziring, director of the Institute of Government and Politics and professor of political science at Western Michigan University, has been invited by the Institute of Oriental Studies, Academy of Sciences USSR-Moscow, to engage in a series of round-tables with Soviet scholars in September, 1981. After completing his assignment in Moscow, Ziring will be sponsored by the United States International Communication Agency for a lecture series on Pakistan and India.

---

Visiting and Temporary Appointments

---

Jilda Aliotta, instructor, Marquette University.

Cindy Benson, visiting instructor, University of Central Florida.

William Brigman, visiting assistant professor, University of Missouri, St. Louis, 1981-82.

Michael Champion, visiting lecturer, University of Michigan, fall term 1981-82.

Rodney Forth, visiting assistant professor, University of Missouri, St. Louis, 1981-82.

John Garver, assistant professor, University of Nevada-Reno, 1981-82.

Michele Hoyman, visiting assistant professor, University of Missouri, St. Louis, 1981-82.

Eugene Huskey, instructor, Colgate University, formerly of the London School of Economics.

Masaru Ikel, visiting professor, University of Michigan, 1981-82.

Joan Johnson-Freese, visiting assistant professor, University of Central Florida, 1981-82.

Robert Kaufman, visiting lecturer, University of Michigan, 1981-82.

Philip S. Kronenberg, Center for Public Administration and Policy, Virginia Poly-

December 4: Winter PS Deadline

The deadline for submission of materials for the winter edition of PS is December 4. Please indicate in which section submitted material should be placed. Also, items for PS should be submitted in PS format.

technic Institute and State University, is on sabbatical leave as Research Professor at the Airpower Research Institute, Air War College at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, where he is studying strategic planning in the Defense Department.

Ronald T. Libby, visiting assistant professor, University of Notre Dame, 1981-83.

Joyce Lillie, associate professor, Florida International University, will be a visiting associate professor, University of Central Florida, 1981-82.

John Marini, assistant professor, University of Nevada-Reno, 1981-82.

Paula D. McClain is on leave from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee for the academic year 1981-82. She is serving as research associate in the Analysis Center of the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania.

Kerry S. McNamara, visiting instructor, University of Notre Dame, 1981-82.

Manuel Millor, visiting instructor, University of Missouri, St. Louis, 1981-82.

Mancur Olson, Department of Economics, University of Maryland, will be at the Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota, as the first Benjamin E. Lippincott Visiting Professor in Political Economy, spring term 1982.

Catherine Shaw, visiting lecturer, University of Michigan, fall term 1981-82.

Dan Siminoski, lecturer, Texas Tech University, 1981-82.

Kathy Smith, visiting assistant professor, Wake Forest University, fall, 1981.

Elaine Spitz, assistant professor, Colgate University; formerly of Hunter College.

Jay Starling, professor, on two-year leave of absence from Southern Methodist University.

Robert L. Utley, assistant professor part-time, Wake Forest University, fall, 1981.

Peter Wallensteen, visiting adjunct professor, University of Michigan, 1981-82.

Barry Warren, instructor, Colgate University; formerly of the University of Connecticut.

Gary D. Wecklin, visiting assistant professor, University of Missouri, Kansas City; formerly of the University of Wisconsin Center, Janesville.

William Rose, visiting instructor, Tulane University, 1981-82.

Leonard Williams, lecturer, Texas Tech University, 1981-82.

---

Administrative Appointments

---

Paul Allen Beck, chairman, Department of Government, Florida State University.

Robert Bledsoe, associate professor, University of Central Florida, has been appointed director of the International Studies Center.

Richard J. Collings, chairperson, Department of Political Science, Southeast Missouri State University.

Robert B. Denhardt, associate dean of the College of Business and Public Administration, University of Missouri-Columbia.

Nelson Dometrius, director, Center for Public Service, Texas Tech University.

A. Lee Fritschler has joined the Brookings staff as director of the Advanced Study Program. He formerly was Commissioner (and Chairman) of the U.S. Postal Rate Commission. Prior to his government service, he was at American University in a number of positions, including that of dean of the College of Public and International Affairs, dean of the School of Government and Public Administration, director of the National Center for Education in Politics, and director of the University's Public Administration Program. Fritschler is national president-elect of the American Society for Public Administration, and will assume the office in March 1982.

Sven Groennings, director, Fund for the Improvement of Post Secondary Education; formerly professional staff member of the Senate Subcommittee on Education, Arts, and Humanities of the Committee on Labor and Human Resources.

People in Political Science

Roger Handberg, professor, University of Central Florida, associate dean for graduate studies, University of Central Florida.

Richard D. Sears, chairman, Department of Politics, Wake Forest University.

Donald Schoonmaker, associate professor, has been appointed Director of the Wake Forest University Worrell House in London for fall, 1981.

James A. Stimson, director of graduate studies, Florida State University.

Richard Webb, director, MPA Program, Texas Tech University.

---

Promotions

Joel D. Barkan, professor, University of Iowa.

Thomas Bierstecker, associate professor, Yale University.

James Brown, professor, Southern Methodist University.

Gregory A. Caldeira, associate professor, University of Iowa.

David Cameron, associate professor, Yale University.

Charles Fairbanks, associate professor, Yale University.

Scott C. Flanagan, professor, Florida State University.

Andrew D. Glassberg, associate professor, University of Missouri, St. Louis.

Henry R. Glick, professor, Florida State University.

David C. Johnston, assistant professor, Yale University.

Young Jeh Kim, associate professor, Alcorn State University.

Eileen L. Kirley, associate professor, Francis Marion College.

Stuart A. Lillie, associate professor, is chairman of the Department of Political Science, University of Central Florida.

William Maddox, associate professor, University of Central Florida.

Gregory B. Markus, associate professor with tenure, University of Michigan.

Philip H. Melanson, professor and department chairman, Southeastern Massachusetts University.

Joyce M. Mushaben, assistant professor, University of Missouri, St. Louis.

Suzanne Ogden, associate professor, Northeastern University.

John Orman, associate professor of politics, Fairfield University.

Hideo Sato, associate professor, Yale University.

Vivienne Shue, associate professor, Yale University.

Rogers M. Smith, assistant professor, Yale University.

Raju G. C. Thomas, associate professor, Marquette University.

Thomas M. Uhlman, associate professor, University of Missouri, St. Louis.

Naomi Weinberger, assistant professor, Yale University.

James Winship, assistant professor, Augustana College.

---

Retirements

Frank Baird, associate professor, Texas Tech University.

Robert C. Bone, professor, Department of Government, Florida State University.

George Eastman, professor, Kent State University.

Robert E. Elder, professor, Colgate University.

Theodore B. Fleming, professor and university ombudsman, Wayne State University.

Norton E. Long, curator's professor, University of Missouri, St. Louis.

Elsie Reavan, assistant professor, has retired after 12 years at Kent State University.