

INTERNATIONAL LAW: 100 WAYS IT SHAPES OUR LIVES

Many find international law abstract and static. Topics such as war and peace or relationships between countries are considered by some to be not so much questions of law, but of power and influence. Others question the existence of international law.

International Law: 100 Ways It Shapes Our Lives was conceived from the proposition that international law not only exists, but also penetrates more deeply and broadly into everyday life than is generally recognized. Some ways are of relatively recent vintage, while others are long-standing. 100 examples were identified by ASIL members, vetted by a smaller group of experts, and organized into seven chapters: 1) daily life; 2) leisure; 3) travel; 4) commerce 5) health and the environment; 6) personal liberty; 7) public safety and global security.

Join us in demonstrating how international law shapes our lives by

- Visiting 100 Ways at www.asil.org/100ways
- Using it in teaching and general civic education programs;
- Adding ways to the list; and
- Sharing your experiences using International Law: 100 Ways It Shapes Our Lives.

We hope that this creative and interactive project will help demonstrate the diversity and the centrality of international law to our lives today.

ASIL INSIGHTS

The Google Book Settlement and International Intellectual Property Law
By Daniel Gervais

On March 22, 2011, New York Federal District Court Judge Dennis Chin rejected a proposed settlement in two lawsuits against Google. The lawsuits were structured as class actions filed by groups representing mostly trade authors and major publishers. The settlement would have allowed Google to continue scanning copyrighted books into its search index and displaying the text to its users in exchange for the payment of license fees to copyright holders.

Global Justice Center: Senior Legal Advisor Position

The Global Justice Center (GJC) is seeking a Senior Legal Advisor to focus on developing progressive, equality-based global legal precedents through the strategic enforcement of international human rights law. This position is for a lawyer with significant international human rights law experience, who is eager to "push the envelope" on how international human rights laws are interpreted and enforced. To apply, please send cover letter and resume to Julie Thomas. Click here for more information.
