The New Oxford Book of American Verse

Chosen and edited by Richard Ellmann

‘ What emerges from a survey of this large and representative anthology is a sense not only of the excellence but also the differentness of American poetry. . . . As Ellmann says in his elegantly written introduction, “ American poetry, once an offshoot, now appears to be a parent stem ”. That this is so, his anthology both comprehensively and judiciously illustrates.’
Financial Times £7.50

The Faces of Eve

Women in the Nineteenth-Century
American Novel

Judith Fryer

The American Adam in a New World Garden has become a stock figure of cultural interpretations of nineteenth-century American literature. The other side of the myth, the woman’s side, is the subject of this book. The authors studied include Hawthorne, Melville, Oliver Wendell Holmes, James, and Howells, and the one novelist who did manage to create a real woman, Kate Chopin. £6.95

Perish the Thought

Intellectual Women in Romantic America
1830-1860

Susan P. Conrad

This lively book, part biography, part literary criticism, examines America’s first generation of female intellectuals. They include Margaret Fuller, Lydia Maria Child, Elizabeth Ellet, Elizabeth Oakes Smith, and Elizabeth Cady Stanton.
Illustrated £7.50

A Concise History of the American Republic

Samuel E. Morison, Henry Steele Commager,
and William E. Leuchtenburg

This is an abridged and thoroughly revised and rewritten version of The Growth of the American Republic – a work which is regarded as one of the classics of American history. The new book is a compact and authoritative account that maintains the stylistic integrity of the parent volume. Illustrated £12.50 paper covers £6.95

America: The Story of a Free People

Allan Nevins and Henry Steele Commager

This new edition of a well-known short history of the United States brings the story up to the accession of Gerald Ford to the Presidency. It covers the Vietnam War and foreign policy in general, the Civil Rights movement, the two Nixon election campaigns, and Watergate. Fourth edition paper covers £2.25

Party Dynamics

The Democratic Coalition and the Politics of Change

Richard L. Rubin

‘At the very least he presents an excellent synthesis of recent major research done on the Democratic party and on the attitudes of key groups of voters in the mass electorate, but in his analysis of this data he achieves much more. . . . Rubin provides an entirely plausible picture of the internal life of the Democratic party.’ T.L.S. £5.95

Reckoning with Slavery

A Critical Study in the Quantitative History of American Negro Slavery

Edited by Paul A. David and others

‘ Reckoning with Slavery challenges the two basic tenets behind Time on the Cross. The supposition that slaves lived in material conditions that were superior to those of white workers, and that they were willing and efficient as freed labourers, are continuously undermined by the scholarship that abounds in this careful, intelligent book.’ The Times Higher Education Supplement. £8.75 paper covers £2.95

Rehearsal for Reconstruction

The Port Royal Experiment

Willie Lee Rose

For this study, first published in 1964, Professor Rose goes back to a period shortly after the start of the Civil War, to the ‘ dress rehearsal ’ for Reconstruction that took place at Beaufort, South Carolina, when Federal troops occupied the Sea Islands. £13.25 paper covers £3.50 Galaxy Books

Ballots for Freedom

Antislavery Politics in the United States
1837-1860

Richard H. Sewell

At first the moral banner of an esoteric northern faction, abolitionism became a political issue as the party platform of the Liberty Party in the 1840s. In this thorough and impartial study the author traces the growth of abolitionism from these modest beginnings, to an issue capable of determining the outcome of national elections, culminating in the election of Abraham Lincoln in 1860. £8.75

Alexander Hamilton

A Concise Biography

Broadus Mitchell

‘ This compact version of Mr. Mitchell’s large life has much to recommend it. The narrative flows well; the intellectual content is clearly delineated. Extravagant claims are avoided, but by the end Hamilton emerges as the truly remarkable, inescapably tragic figure that he was.’ The Economist £8

The Enlightenment in America

Henry F. May

‘ Professor May has confronted these challenges superbly and produced a book which will delight the connoisseur of adventuring ideas per se as well as promoting answers to those stubborn problems of causation that the historian of politics and society cannot solve by mere psephology, economics, or sociology.’ The Economist £8.95

CONGRESS AGAINST ITSELF

ROGER H. DAVIDSON, WALTER J. OLESZEK

"Congress Against Itself is 'must' reading for anyone who wants a fuller understanding of the House and its internal dynamics."

—Rep. Donald M. Fraser

"In Congress Against Itself two political scientists who are among the most sophisticated in the ways of the House of Representatives take the reader on an intimate tour through the inner workings of that institution. The reader watches the members at work and listens to their conversations, while the authors explain the how and why of what they do."—James L. Sundquist

FOUNDING PRINCIPLES OF AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

Two Hundred Years of Democracy on Trial

GEORGE J. GRAHAM, Jr., SCARLETT G. GRAHAM, Editors

This book is a serious assessment of the principles upon which the nation was founded and an investigation of how they have evolved and endured during two hundred years of experience. Subjects treated are the Declaration of Independence, the founding of the nation, the establishment of republican government, the idea of popular consent, the separation of powers, the federal structure, the written Constitution, the Presidency, Congress, the Supreme Court, political parties, government, and the economy, the current need for political theory, and the future of American democracy.

AMERICAN LITERATURE 1764-1789

The Revolutionary Years

EVERETT EMERSON, Editor

Together, these essays weave a rich tapestry of the cultural, intellectual, and political life in America during the crucial years in which a people united to seize control of their own destiny. This volume will, of course, be indispensable to scholars and students of early American literature. But it will be of equal value to historians, political scientists, students of American studies, and to all people who wish to gain a fuller understanding of the vital human currents which ran through the American Revolution.

Political Philosophy and Rhetoric

A Study of the Origins of American Party Politics

JOHN ZVESPER

Dr Zvesper argues that the partisan conflict between Federalists and Republicans in the 1790s was not merely an interesting historical sequel to the American Revolution and the framing of the constitution, but was a confrontation of two of the fundamental alternatives of modern political philosophy.

The Business of Crime

Italians and Syndicate Crime
in the United States

Humbert S. Nelli

This book starts with the Mafia in Sicily and traces the involvement of Italians in crime in America from the 1880s until the Second World War, with an added section giving a survey of developments during the past thirty years. It is the first thoroughly researched general book on this important subject. Illustrated £8

Documentary Expression in Thirties America

William Stott

‘The treatment is thorough, lucid, and richly intelligent.’
T.L.S.

‘It is one of the best books I have read on the thirties. It is also one of the best books I have read on modern forms of communication, because it is so specific.’ New Society.
Illustrated paper covers £3.25 Galaxy Books

James J. Hill and the Opening of the Northwest

Albro Martin

‘This solidly constructed biography . . . is full, clear, and illuminating . . . what is here portrayed is a far more solid record of achievement than the “robber baron” image of the melodrama of the Northern Securities might suggest. And in the solid worth of Mr. Martin’s biography it has found a fitting memorial.’ The Economist £13.50

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, School of English and American Studies, University of East Anglia, Norwich NR4 7TJ, England.
2. Articles should generally contain about 5,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
4. Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing (including footnotes), preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
5. Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
6. Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
7. For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to the MLA Style Sheet (2nd ed.), or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
8. Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
9. Notes intended for the Editors or printer should be on a separate sheet.
10. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
11. Corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
12. Contributors of articles and review articles receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
13. Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps).
14. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
