Women and the Genesis of Christianity

BEN WITHERINGTON III

Edited by ANN WITHERINGTON

This book sets out to present as clearly as possible all significant passages in the New Testament which deal with women and their roles in New Testament times. A comprehensive survey, Women and the Genesis of Christianity shows how there was a welcome attempt to permit women to hold a new kind of authority in religious contexts.

From Adam to Christ

Essays on Paul

MORNA D. HOOKER

This collection of essays written by one of the foremost contemporary New Testament scholars, focuses on Paul's understanding of human redemption. Professor Hooker explores the contradistinction between Adam and Christ, showing that, while the Law reflected God's glory, its power was nevertheless incomplete.

The Temptation and the Passion

The Markan Soteriology

Second Edition

ERNEST BEST

The aim of this book is to illuminate the manner in which Mark understood Jesus' death. In this new edition, Professor Best looks at the Gospel as a continuous story and attempts to show how Mark saw Jesus' death both as an atonement from sin and as creative of the new community of the Church.
