Bitter Roots

The Search for Healing Plants in Africa
Abena Dove Osseo-Asare

“By choosing to investigate colonial and post-colonial science through scientific work with plant medicines, Osseo-Asare deepens our understanding of the power relations not only between African and European or American scientists but also between healers and these indigenous and foreign scientists.”—Stacey Langwick, Cornell University

The Social Life of Spirits

Edited by Ruy Blanes and Diana Espirito Santo

“Going beyond beliefs or representations, The Social Life of Spirits proposes to describe spirits through their effects, asking how are spirits made to happen and what do they make happen. This is a brilliant book.”—Roger Sansi, University of London

Civil War and State Formation

The Political Economy of War and Peace in Liberia

Felix Gerdes

This book investigates the political economy of civil war and democratic peace, arguing that the civil wars of Liberia did not represent state decay but exhibited dynamics characteristic of state formation.

How to Submit a Proposal

Instructions for submitting proposals can be found online on the ASA website, www.africanstudies.org.

About the African Studies Association

Established in 1957, the African Studies Association is the largest organization in the world devoted to enhancing the exchange of information about Africa. Our members include scholars, students, teachers, activists, development professionals, policy makers, donors and many others. We encourage interdisciplinary interactions with Africa. We provide access to pathbreaking research and key debates in African studies. We bring together people with scholarly and other interests in Africa through our annual meeting and seek to broaden professional opportunities in the field of African studies. The organization publishes two leading interdisciplinary journals on Africa, African Studies Review and History in Africa and promotes an informed understanding of Africa to the public and in educational institutions as well as to businesses, media, and other communities that have interests in Africa.

For general questions regarding the meeting and/or registration please contact members@africanstudies.org. For questions regarding the submission process, guidelines, or program theme please contact asameeting2014@gmail.com.

We welcome your participation in this exciting conference and in the ASA!
