THE first number of a new quarterly bulletin, Recherche, enseignement, documentation africanistes francophones, covering Black Africa, Madagascar and the Maghreb, has been issued by CARDAN for the collection, classification, and distribution of information on research and teaching in progress and on documentation in the field of francophone African studies. It is not at present intended to publish a list of research workers, since CARDAN is preparing for UNESCO a general index of specialized francophone researches in African studies. A calendar of scientific meetings and Africanist conferences is being independently prepared
