The Mind on Paper

Reading, Consciousness and Rationality

DAVID R. OLSON

Advance praise

‘This is a highly original and compelling treatment of the effects of literacy on human consciousness, written by the world’s leading expert on the cognitive consequences of literacy. The interdisciplinary approach will be of interest to scholars of cognitive psychology, developmental psychology, education, philosophy, and linguistics.’

Susan Gelman, University of Michigan

‘This substantial and original work makes a compelling argument in favour of the significance of metarepresentation for reading. It provides critical insights into the interconnections between reading, writing, and reasoning, and makes a valuable contribution to our understanding of mind. Olson’s incisive argument should have important educational consequences.’

Bilingualism: Language and Cognition

Editors

Jubin Abutalebi, Università Vita-Salute San Raffaele, Italy;
Harald Clahsen, Potsdam Research Institute for Multilingualism, Germany

Bilingualism: Language and Cognition is an international peer-reviewed journal focusing on bilingualism from a cognitive science perspective. The aims of the journal are to promote research on the bilingual person and to encourage debate in the field. The domains covered are the following: bilingual language competence, perception and production, bilingual language acquisition in children and adults, neurolinguistics of bilingualism (in normal and brain-damaged populations), and non-linguistic cognitive processes in bilinguals. Bilingualism carries articles and research notes on all aspects of the bilingual person, and is published three times a year.

Applied Psycholinguistics

Editor

Martha Crago, Dalhousie University, Canada

Applied Psycholinguistics publishes original research papers on the psychological processes involved in language. It examines language development and disorders in adults and children with and without developmental disabilities. Articles in Applied Psycholinguistics address the nature, acquisition, and impairments of language expression and comprehension, including writing and reading. This journal gathers together the best work from a variety of fields including linguistics, psychology, reading, education, language learning, sociology, speech and hearing, and neurology. In addition, issues include reviews of important new books, problem-oriented reviews of important or emergent areas, discussions of previously published papers, and methodological notes.

UK COGNITIVE LINGUISTICS ASSOCIATION

The central objectives of the UK-CLA are to develop and promote the multi-disciplinary field of Cognitive Linguistics within the UK, as well as contribute to the research- and event-based synergy currently growing across Europe, and to foster initiatives and exchanges at the wider international level. To this end, the Association organises a biennial UK-based conference in Cognitive Linguistics (see <http://www.uk-cla.org.uk> for details).

A key aspect of the work undertaken by the Association is cooperation with other Cognitive Linguistics Associations, under the auspices of the International Cognitive Linguistics Association. To find out more about the Association and get involved in its activities, please subscribe to the UK-CLA mailing list at <http://www.uk-cla.org.uk>.

The UK-CLA is affiliated to the International Cognitive Linguistics Association and the Linguistics Association of Great Britain.

Membership of the UK-CLA is achieved by subscribing to Language and Cognition. Details on how to subscribe to the journal can be found at the journal website <http://journals.cambridge.org/UKCLA>. Subscription is available in the following options: online only, or online plus print. Individual subscription includes automatic electronic access to all back issues.

In addition, the Association strongly supports contacts and cooperation between its members, the development of research projects, curricula and international graduate and doctoral programmes in Cognitive Linguistics, as well as the organisation of conferences, workshops, and other relevant events.
