

92nd Annual Meeting
April 1-4 1998 ● ANA Hotel ● Washington, DC

The globalization of financial markets...Changing actors and obligations...Implications of today's new technology...

These challenges are changing the way we practice law and manage world relations.

You can discover how these issues will affect you, your career, and our world at ASIL's 92nd Annual Meeting. More than 1,000 lawyers, law professors, and law students will gather in April to analyze these issues and many more.

Get the latest information on...

- Genocide
- WTO Enlargement
- War Crimes Tribunals
- International Environmental Decision Making
- Cultural Differences in Interpreting International Law
- International Security
- The European Nation
- And much more.

Who Should Attend ASIL's Annual Meeting?

- Any attorney who practices international law
- International law professors or anyone instructing on international issues
- Students interested in international law
- In-house legal counsel for multinational corporations
- Anyone specializing in immigration, arms control, human rights, or any other international political or social issue

Special Rates for Practitioners Working for Non-Profit and Governmental Organizations!

For more information about ASIL's Annual Meeting, the Society or membership information, please contact the Services Group at (202) 939-6000. Or, visit our Web site at www.asil.org.

The Executive Council of The American Society of International Law expresses its profound gratitude to

Marilou M. Righini

for her many years of service to the Society

as Editor of International Legal Materials and as Director of Publications.

We recognize the enormous contributions she has made toward developing the publications of the Society and to ensuring their excellence. Under her leadership,

International Legal Materials has become a flagship publication of the Society, one which is relied upon by scholars, practicing lawyers, diplomats, and public and private organizations throughout the world. She has demonstrated an outstanding ability to ensure the selection of the most important documents for I L M and to enlist the enthusiastic support of corresponding editors from many countries and regions.

We thank her for her long and dedicated service to The American Society of International Law and to the promotion of international law worldwide.

December 1997