German Law Journal

The German Law Journal is a pioneering open-access forum for the publication of scholarship and commentary on comparative, European, and international law. It has been online and freely available since 1999. Founded as a transatlantic newsletter on developments in German law, the Journal has secured a place among the world's leading law reviews disseminating scholarship across borders. The Journal combines high-quality theoretical research with reports on current developments and thematic special issues. Pursuing this agenda, the Journal has gained a reputation for innovative publishing - linking cutting-edge, border-crossing scholarship with open access and speed to publication.

Since 2019, the German Law Journal has been published by Cambridge University Press on behalf of the German Law Journal e.V, a non-profit association under German law registered at Amtsgericht Wiesbaden, VR 7520.

Through this unique collaboration, all authors accepted for publication in the Journal can publish on an open-access basis, regardless of their funding status or affiliation. There are no financial barriers to open-access publication in the GLJ.
