

Social Service Review

The articles we publish today lay the groundwork for tomorrow's reforms.

In its sixty years of publication, Social Service Review has consistently been devoted to the study of current social problems and to the achievement of worthy goals:

- establishment of social security in the 1930s
- service to war refugees in the 1940s
- development of treatment research in the 1950s
- the war on poverty in the 1960s

Committed to scholarship in search of social welfare that works, SSR provides you with the broad coverage necessary to understand contemporary social conditions. SSR draws from the research of economists, psychologists, and political scientists, as well as social service scholars and practitioners.

Special sections—Notes on Research, Notes on Policy and Practice, Notes on History—bring you a wealth of analysis and perspective. SSR's Book Reviews keep you informed of critical current works; Brief Notices bring you up to date on a wide range of books, reports, and documents of further interest.

Social Service Review: providing perspectives for long range solutions. Edited by John R. Schuerman. Published quarterly by the University of Chicago Press.

One-year rates: Individuals $24.00; Institutions $38.00; Students with copy of ID $18.00. Outside USA add $3.00. Visa and MasterCard accepted. social policy

It doesn't just cover social movements -
It helps to launch them.

- the new strategy for voter registration
- the "new Populism"
- the 15-million-strong self-help movement
- new initiatives for full employment

International Journal of Sociology & Social Policy

The International Journal of Sociology & Social Policy is designed to provide information on new developments and research in the field of sociology and social policy worldwide. Because of its international perspective and focus on contemporary studies, IJSSP is an important source of reference material as well as a forum for debate for both professionals and academics in the field.

Occasionally special issues are produced on specific areas of interest. In the past these have included:

- Religion and Change
- Area Policy and Area Strategies
- Children and Marriage
- Democratic Enterprise
- The Problems of Values
- Value Judgements

Journal of Social Policy

Notes for Contributors

1. All contributions and correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of Social Policy, Department of Social Policy and Administration, University of Leeds, Leeds LS2 9JT. All books for review should be sent to: The Review Editor, Journal of Social Policy, Department of Social Policy, University of Newcastle, Newcastle upon Tyne NE1 7RN.
2. Articles should generally contain between 5,000 and 10,000 words including footnotes, although longer or shorter articles may be accepted by arrangement with the editor. Short articles stand a better chance of early publication.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.
4. Contributions (articles, review articles, reviews) should be clearly typed on one side of the paper only using a conventional size of paper, preferably A4. All material should be typed double-spaced with generous margins. Contributors should send two copies and keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
5. Contributions should be accompanied by an abstract of between one and two hundred words, and a title page providing information about the position/s held by the author/s and giving full details of any acknowledgements.
6. Manuscripts will not be accepted for publication unless they conform to the usual journal style. Contributors are advised to look at the latest issue of the journal for general guidance, although a brief style sheet is available from the editor upon request. Particular attention should be made to the journal requirements about references and tables.
7. Notes should not contain bibliographical references: these should be built into the text and the Harvard (author/date) system used. Such notes as are essential should be referred to in numerical order throughout the text and the numbers shown as superscript. Notes and bibliographical references should be typed (double-spaced) as separate sections at the end of the article.
8. Tables should be clearly laid out and designed to fit on to a page 234 mm × 155 mm. Vertical lines between columns should be omitted, and horizontal lines limited to the top and bottom of the table, with an additional one below the column headings. Totals and percentages should be labelled, and units identified.
9. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the editor, by airmail where appropriate, within seven days of receiving them.
10. Authors of articles and review articles (but not book reviews) receive twenty-five free offprints. Additional copies may be bought if ordered at proof stage.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
